Marine Gives Grand Jurors Details Of Stomping Death

War Training Used To Tie Up Victim

By STEPHEN COOK

A 21-year-old Marine, who learned in Vietnam how to hogtie a man so he would not get loose, has confessed to the Marin County Grand Jury his part in the fatal stomping and beating of San Rafael gun collector Wesley L. Marshall Dec. 6.

Claude (Frenchy) LeBas, of Long Beach, told the grand jury that he and Dennis Charles Novotny, 22, of 1554 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, robbed, kicked and beat Marshall in his apartment at 142 Bungalow Avenue.

The robbery, which resulted in Marshall's death Jan. 6, was encouraged and abetted, during the planning stages, by John Arceo, 31, of 347 Cascade Drive, Fairfax, LeBas told the panel. LeBas is absent without leave from the Marine Corps.

He, Novotny and Arceo were arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on charges of murdering Marshall. LeBas, Arceo, and his wife, Mary Louise Arceo, 21, were also arraigned on various armed robbery charges.

All asked a one-week continuance so their attorneys can study the grand jury transcript, released yesterday.

William B. Wolfson, attorney for Novotny, asked Judge Harold J. Jaley to restralin Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales from releasing any informaition about the case to the news media.

"Mr. Bales has given several inaccurate statements to the press," said Wolfson.

DENIES MOTION

Judge Haley denied the motion, tellling Wolfson to present it to the court in written form.

According to the Grand Jury transcript, LeBas admitted planning the robbery of Marshall at Arceo's apartment the afternoon of the beating.

The robbery was suggested by Novotny, he said.

"Dennis used to clean guns for Marshall and Mr. Marshall used to invite a lot of kids over there, you know, to show his gun collection off," LeBas said.

He also revealed that Arceo and Novotny mentioned having tried robbing Marshall once before, but did not elaborate.

BALKED AT FIRST

Arceo balked at the robbery suggestion at first, but agreed later, saying there must be some money in the house and the guns could be sold to the motorcycle gang in Sausalito, LeBas said.

Only LeBas and Novotny actually participated in the beating and robbery, according to the grand jury transcript.

The pair got to the Marshall apartment at 8 p.m. Dec. 6. Novotny, afraid he would be recognized, wore a knit cap pulled down to his ears and a pair of

Knock-Out Storm Is Tapering Off

Marin County's first major storm of the winter season eased off today after closing schools and streets, knocking out power to an estimated 1,000 customers and sending wind-buffeted creeks over their banks.

Winds again reached 100 miles per hour last night atop Mount Tamalpais. More than three inches of rain fell in some parts of the county. Power blackouts continued last night from early evening until close to midnight.

TRAVEL WARNING

The Weather Bureau said the howling storm was moving southeast, but travel warnings were still in effect today in mountains north of Yosemite as heavy snow and strong winds continued.

In Marin, mud slides were reported yesterday in Tiburon, Mill Valley and Homestead Valley. No homes were endangered, however.

A low-lying stretch of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Ross, between Ross General Hospital and Lagunitas Road, was closed for a short period last night.

DARK HOMES

Homes were darkened by power shortages last night in Inverness, Black Point, San Rafael, Larkspur and Kentfield.

Corte Madera Creek, whipped by a strong southerly wind, splashed into the Granton Park area. Water was four feet deep at points.

Kentfield firemen, working in shifts, rescued children from Adaline E. Kent School on Stadium Way in a 14-foot aluminum boat. They helped stranded College of Marin students and area residents as well.

County Public Works Director reported minor slides last night on Montford Avenue and Sequoia Valley Road, both Homestead Valley. In Tiburon, mud seeped into classrooms at Bel Air School on Karen Way today, forcing evacuation of some students.

Leonard Robertson, a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. spokesman, said felled wires shut off power for various periods last night to some 500 customers in Black Point, 25 in the Deer Park-Highlands Avenue area of San Rafael, 250 in Inverness, 18 in the Madrone Avenue area of Larkspur, and to another 50 customers in Kentfield.

WORK AT NIGHT

A crew of 60 worked through to night to make repairs, Robertson said.

In Mill Valley, a sewer reportedly burst on Eton Way and three homes were flooded about 10 p.m. yesterday. A slide was reported at 32 Glen Drive, Mill Valley, and falling branches punched a 10-inch hole in the roof of Ruddy Merino at 131 California Avenue in Tamalpais Valley.

Frost said he was told Santa Venetia's Gallinas Creek reached its highest peak in recent years becuase of the southerly wind. Minor flooding was reported in nearby streets.

In the mountains, heavy snow was expected through tonight, tapering to flurries tomorrow.

Small craft warnings were still in effect today from Point

PUEBLO CRISIS

President Hears Crew Doing Well

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The White House said today it has received reports that the crewmen taken prisoner by North Korea in the seizure of the USS Pueblo are being "properly treated" and given medical care.

Press Secretary George Christian declined to disclose the source of the report. But he said the White House has not received any word on the status of the 83-man crew from the International Red Cross.

The United States appeared today to have accepted the probability that the communists will hold the crew prisoner at least a couple more weeks. Christian said he had heard no expression on timing.

U. S. officials presume North Korea is extensively interrogating the men, particularly specialists who were trained to operate the sophisticated electronic equipment carried by the intelligence vessel.

The return of the ship, at this point, is a secondary consideration.

Despite charges from Capitol Hill that the Administration has been timid in demanding the return of the almost unarmed ship, President Johnson was still concentrating today on quiet efforts through diplomatic channels to free the Pueblo and her men.

The United States is believed willing to let North Korea participate in United Nations Security Council debate on the crisis, but not while it is still holding the 83 crewmen hostage.

The White House was careful to let it be known that "there has been, and is, prudent, orderly and limited deployment of American military forces in the Korean area." (See also reserves story, page 10.)

Today's action at the United Nations primarily involved behind the scenes maneuvering. A scheduled meeting of the Security Council was canceled yesterday because private talks failed to bring the 15-nation body closer to agreement on a course of action.

In Seoul, Gen. Charles H. Bonesteel III, the American who commands U.N. forces in South Korea, said today he could see "no unusual indicators" pointing toward all out war with North Korea.

But he said North Korea apparently still is "trying to impose the communist system upon the entire Korean peninsula" and added that he expected an increase in terrorist activities in the South. Bonesteel said "intensified actions" are under way to foil the Communist threat.

Air, Land Duel Erupts Over Suez Opening

CAIRO (UPI) — Israeli planes attacked the town of Ismailia on the west bank of the Suez Canal today and Egyptian and Israeli artillery dueled across the waterway, an Egyptian spokesman reported.

The clash was triggered by Egypt's defiance of an Israeli warning not to send ships into the northern section of the canal which has been blocked since the war last June. Israel claims this would violate the agreement ending the June war. (See also, Israeli submarine story, page 3.)

Israeli forces on the east bank opened fire when four Egyptian survey launches moved out of Lake Timsah near Ismailia, about midway along the canal. The semi-official Middle East News Agency said the launches were hit and forced to return to the lake.

The Egyptian spokesman said Israeli planes appeared over Ismailia while the artillery duel was in progress across the narrow canal. He said Egyptian antiaircraft batteries opened fire on the aircraft.

Reds Aim Guns At Eight Major Cities

BULLETIN

SAIGON (UPI) — The Viet Cong's greatest offensive of the war swept into the heart of Saigon early Wednesday (Saigon time). U.S. military police reported fights with the Viet Cong near the Independence Palace.

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas, operating in some areas with North Vietnamese regulars, launched their mightiest offensive of the war today. They hit eight major cities and more than a score of towns and villages in coordinated attacks, inflicting casualties and immense damage.

Most of the attacks were hurled back with heavy losses but fighting still raged tonight in a dozen cities and towns, some of them in flames.

They destroyed or damaged tens of millions of dollars worth of U.S. jet planes and helicopters.

U.S. casualties were reported comparatively light, but no figures were yet available.

Casualty reports were far from complete. Dispatches from key cities such as Da Nang said at least 546 Communists were killed and hundreds captured as they struck under cover of the Tet (lunar New Year) truce while the Vietnamese were celebrating with firecrackers.

U.S. and allied forces cancelled the remaining part of their 36-hour Tet cease-fire still in effect in the central highlands and the south. The truce had been cancelled in the five northern provinces because of the threat of a large scale Red offensive in the Khe Sanh area.

The pattern of attack was similar as the Viet Cong struck cities along the coast and towns and villages in the central highlands.

UPI correspondent Thomas Corpora reported tonight from Ban Me Thuot that the

Nixon Statement Due On Thursday

NEW YORK (AP) — An aide to Richard M. Nixon says the former vice president will have a statement Thursday about whether he will enter the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary.

There's every indication the answer will be yes.

Nixon still insisted yesterday he hasn't made the final decision, but he also plans a news conference Friday in Manchester, N.H., a locale which he conceded is "significant." The deadline for entering the New Hampshire first-in-the-nation primary is Wednesday, but a candidate can be nominated without his consent, and has until Feb. 10 to withdraw.

Synanon Eyes $3.5 Million Apartments

Synanon Foundation is negotiating to purchase the seven buildings of the Uplands Apartments in Corte Madera for $3.5 million, it was reported today.

The 134 units in the apartments at 5200 Paradise Drive would be used to further Synanon as a social movement and would be used to treat dope addicts, a foundation official said.

Addicts would be full time residents at the apartments, as they are at the addiction treatment center in Marshall, which Synanon has operated since 1964.

But there also would be persons renting apartments, having jobs outside the Synanon community but who want to share in the "social phenomenon — the style of life we have evolved," said William Quinn, acting director of the Marshall treatment center.

Marshall now has only full time residents who work and live there. Most are addicts, some alcoholics, others have emotional problems or want to live in the society there.

The apartments were completed two years ago, financed by William T. Michel, Claude Keck and Tomlinson R. Moseley.

Senate Confirms Clifford To Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate today unanimously confirmed Clark Clifford to succeed Robert S. McNamara as defense secretary. The action was taken in a routine voice vote with only five senators on the floor.

Clifford, 61-year-old Washington attorney and confidant of three presidents, was nominated by President Johnson to join his Cabinet when McNamara leaves to become president of the World Bank sometime before March 1. (See story on Clifford's bombing halt views, page 3.)

MARIN WATCHDOGS REPORT

County Must Seek Efficiency In Giving Service, Panel Says

Economy in county government through greater efficiency is called for in the first two of a series of final reports of the 1967 Marin County Grand Jury, presented today to the county board of supervisors.

In his foreman's report, Clifford S. Lund wrote:

"If there is one common viewpoint among the members of the grand jury, it would be to plead for more economy in government."

The county offices committee, headed by Eugene S. Ostaggi, opened its report with these words:

"The committee has observed, with alarm, the continuing rising cost of our county's government."

Both Lund and the county offices committee offered suggestions for reversing the spiral.

The grand jury foreman likened the county government to operation of a corporation with a business volume of $27 million per year (the county's budget for this year).

However, such a corporation does not increase its work force 10 per cent if it seeks a 10 per cent increase in sales, he contended; instead "it finds more efficiency withing its existing work force or it is soon no longer competitive and profitable."

He suggested the same could be done by the county.

"Let the board of supervisors and the county administrator take a firm stand by informing each department head that this is the year to show the taxpaying public just how well he administers his department — to bring back a budget no greater than last year, with no increase in personnel and a detailed plan for increasing the efficiency of his department to meet the anticipated work load," he suggested.

Lund wrote that the grand jury realizes some departments are understaffed, but said these exceptions do not include public works, planning, welfare, "etc."

The county offices committee noted that Marin's assessed valuation has more than tripled in the last 10 years but this has not been accompanied by a decrease in the county tax rate. Also, it noted, during the 10

Reds Await Signal For Biggest Offensive Of Viet War

By PETER ARNETT

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — Mountains, hills and jungles surround Khe Sanh and the U.S. Marines at this combat base know North Vietnamese are in them—perhaps more than any American outfit has ever faced in a single battle in the Vietnam war.

Intelligence reports put the enemy's strength around Khe Sanh at about 30,000 men—three divisions—positioned to the south, west and north. Another 10,000 to 20,000 are believed strung along the demilitarized zone to the northeast.

"We know they are there," a Marine officer said. "They know we know they are there. One of us will act."

A week ago there were 5,000 Leathernecks in this northwest hot corner of South Vietnam. They have been reinforced and U.S. Army troops have been moved into easy reach, but the total American strength at Khe Sanh is a military secret.

The men at Khe Sanh expect the fighting to start at the end of the week, with the close of observance of Tet, the lunar new year festival.

This is what Marine officers expect the enemy to do:

—Shell the airstrip at Khe Sanh to try to close it to supply planes. If this happens, the Marines expect supplies by air-drop.

—Attack to the east in an effort to close off Highway 9, the main ground supply route. But the Marines say they can open the roadway with tanks.

—Make one or possibly two major infantry assaults on this combat base itself. The Marines express confidence they can beat the attacks off. (But enemy shells could mean heavy Marine casualties. In shelling last week the Communists scored direct hits with devastating results, particularly because of the nature of Marine positions.)

—Attack the two Marine battalions holding Hills 881 to the south and 861 to the west of Khe Sanh. The hills, scenes of bloody fighting last spring, are deemed vulnerable.

As of now, the Marines are proceeding with caution.

"I do not intend to get one more Marine killed than is necessary," declared Lt. Col. Frank Heath of Detroit, commander of the 2nd Battalion, 26th Regiment, on Hill 558 two miles west of Khe Sanh.

Rather than use infantrymen to rout the enemy, Heath calls in planes and artillery.

The reluctance of the Marines to tangle directly with the Communists now is evidenced elsewhere in the region. The combat base and most of the important mands the 26th Marine Regiment, Col. David Lownds of Plantation, Fla., said his units had not returned to the nearby town of Khe Sanh after it had been abandoned by civilian inhabitants.

The abandonment and possible destruction of the town are in ironic contrast to early last year. Fierce battles fought on Hills 861 and 881 then were said to be for the defense of the town. This year the town was given up virtually without a fight.

The reluctance of the Marines to go into the mountains after the Communists is the result of lessons learned in bloody fights during the past two years in the northern regions. Now that they are in possession of the combat base and most of tha important hills in the area, the Marines figure they can let the Communists make the first moves. This will give the Marines an advantage that the enemy has enjoyed in other hill battles.

But should the magnitude of the enemy buildup be translated into fighting over the whole area, the U.S. Command might have little choice but to go after the Communists with ground troops to destroy them.

It is obviously with this in mind that the command has deployed elite U.S. Army brigades in the lowlands to the east of mountainous Khe Sanh. The commitment of these troops would mean bitter, endless fighting.

The Communists could very well force this kind of fighting.

The problem of Khe Sanh, and other regions in South Vietnam, is that the Communists are only as conventional as they want to be. When the going gets too tough, they can retreat across the border, always avoiding decisive defeat.

An Empty Gas Tank Ends A 250-Mile Terror Ride

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Threatening death to seven hostages—"I'll shoot them one at a time if I have to"—a frustrated bandit led officers on an all-day, 250-mile chase yesterday then surrenedered to a captive police sergeant when his commandeered hospital van ran out of gasoline.

Daniel Williams, 26, of Denver, was jailed for investigation of armed robbery, kidnaping and assault with a deadly weapon. His roommate, Louis Maple, 23, was arrested at the scene of a bungled northeast Denver supermarket holdup that launched the drama. He was held for investigation of armed robbery.

Store employees were getting ready to open when the two gunmen slipped in behind a delivery man. They ordered everyone into the basement but one employee slipped away and signaled their predicament to two passing girls who notified police.

One gunman got the drop on Denver police Sgt. Lawrence P. Morahan and forced the officer to drive him away along with three other men in a police cruiser. Twice during the subsequent chase the gunman switched vehicles, ending up in the hospital van.

CASE HOSTAGE — Three-year-old Charles Doerr of Denver glances apprehensively at a Colorado Patrol aircraft at Limon Airport as a Denver patrolmen comforts him. He was one of seven hostages held in a seven-hour, 250-mile terror ride through the state. (UPI Telephoto)

By the time the gunman and his captive band made their winding seven-hour tour of the eastern Colorado plains, two of the hostages had been wounded, three had been released and the rest of the party was within four miles of the supermarket where it all started.

Neither of the two shooting victims was injured seriously. One was released shortly after the shooting and taken by helicopter to a hospital. The other was among the four persons still in the van when Williams surrendered.

In the end, it appeared to be the constant pleading for surrender by Sgt. Morahan, a 46-year-old father of eight, and pursuing officers' strategy of waiting it out that brought the ordeal to a halt.

More than 60 carloads of police, held at bay by the man's repeated threats to shoot his hostages, waited momentarily.

The man had been armed with a .45-caliber pistol and Morahan's .38-caliber service revolver.

With Anderson and Morahan in the van when it stopped were Kenneth Schmidt, 23, the University of Colorado Medical Center employee who was forced to drive the van, and Carl Haynes, 17, who was among the four hostagss taken at the start.

Supervisors Escape Bomb Plot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Persons who attended a Board of Supervisors meeting yesterday afternoon are safe today because the meeting adjourned an hour earlier than usual.

A bomb timed to explode about 5 p.m. was found yesterday afternoon in City Hall.

One of the supervisors, Jack Morrison, said the weekly meeting began at 2 p.m. broke up at 4. The meetings usually run past 5 p.m., he said.

AT PRISON FARM

Secret Graves Turn Up Three Skeletons

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — The skeletons of three men have been discovered in unmarked graves at Cummins Prison Farm, spurring an investigation that the prison physician said might turn up "as many as 100, if not more" bodies.

The skeletons, resting in three wooden coffins about a mile from the prison administration building, were recovered yesterday from graves 4½ to 6 feet deep. Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton had ordered a search of the grounds to check convict reports that inmates had been killed and secretly buried at the prison through the years.

"I feel reasonably certain that there are more bodies out there," said Dr. Edwin Barron Jr. of Little Rock, the prison phsycian.

"We will continue to dig as long as we have graves to dig," said Murton, who called in the criminal investigation division of the state police to make an inquiry.

Murton said a prisoner, identified as Reuben Johnson, 59, pointed out the site of the graves yesterday. Barron quoted Johnson as saying that he helped bury a convict called "Jake" at the site Dec. 24, 1947. The doctor said Johnson reported that "Jake" was beaten to death.

Murton said Johnson's knowledge of the grave site "would be an indication that they didn't die of old age."

Murton declined to speculate on what had caused the deaths of the men, but he said "according to testimonials of inmates on the farm . . . there have been burials that were other than legal."

He said he had conducted a similar investigation at nearby Tucker Prison Parm, but found nothing.

The dwarf mistletoe, a parasitic plant, catapults its seeds 20 feet into the air with air pressure built up in the seed pod.

Murton said one of the skeletons had been decapitated and that the head of another had been crushed. He said the leg bones of one of the skeletons had been broken, apparently in order "to get him into the casket." He said there was no way of knowing whether the mutilation took place before or after death.

Morton was hired shortly after Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller released a report of a State Police investigation in 1966 in which Tucker Prison Farm inmates alleged brutality, extortion and traffic in liquor and drugs.

SURPRISES ALLIES — Clark Clifford, who is expected to be confirmed this week as Secretary of Defense, has surprised Vietnam allies in regard to a new bombing halt formula. (AP Wirephoto)

Britisher Sees Sub Sales To U.S., An Economic Must

LONDON (AP) — One of the Labor party's leading military experts wants the British government to sell the four Polaris submarines it is building to the United States.

Lord Wigg of Dudley, for years one of Prime Minister Harold Wilson's closest advisers on defense matters, says his proposal is based on factors of cost and military realities.

In an interview, he estimated it will cost Britain around $1.2 billion over the next 10 years to build, maintain, deploy and develop a base complex for the nuclear-powered submarines. The first vessel, the Resolution, is due to become operational soon.

Wigg suggested the Americans might be glad to take over the armaca because they could arm the subs with the Poseidon, a harder-hitting missile than the Polaris, and so reinforce the West's strike power. Britain, he added, would "accumulate at once several hundreds of millions of pounds."

Wigg was a career soldier who rose from the ranks before entering politics. As a member of Wilson's government his independent views on defense policy sometimes put him in conflict with colleagues. Now, as a member of the House of Lords freed from the restraints of office, he can say publicly what he thinks.

Some high British military authorities agree with his proposal to sell the subs to the United States.

Current British plans are to assign the Polaris subs to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization fleet in accordance with the government's view that Britain's security role now lies fundamentally in Europe.

CLIFFORD REMARKS

Bomb Halt Formula Surprise To Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic sources say U.S. allies in Vietnam were surprised by Secretary of Defense-designate Clark Clifford's statement that "normal" North Vietnamese resupply activities wouldn't stand in the way of an American bombing halt.

U.S. diplomatic sources said yesterday that Clifford's comments before the Senate Armed Services Committee last week spelled out in new detail U.S. conditions for a bombing halt and that they were privately brought to the attention of Hanoi.

SOME UNHAPPY

Many of the allies fighting with the United States in Vietnam asked the State Department for clarification of Clifford's remarks. The sources indicated the allied nations were unhappy they hadn't been consulted first.

The State Department has publicly said Clifford's comments were "certainly consistent with the San Antonio formula" laid down by President Johnson last September.

Johnson had said he would be prepared to halt the bombing of North Vietnam if prompt and productive talks resulted. He said he would assume the Communists wouldn't take advantage of the bombing pause.

SECRET FORMULA

But it was learned that even high-level Asian experts at the State Department weren't aware of the formula as explained by Clifford.

Clifford, whose nomination as secretary of defense is expected to be confirmed by the Senate this week, said of the North Vietnamese Communists: Their military activity will continue in South Vietnam, I assume, until there is a cease-fire agreed upon. I assume that they will continue to transport the normal amount of goods, munitions and men to South Vietnam. I assume that we will continue to maintain our forces and support our forces during that period.

"So what I am suggesting is, in the language of the President, that we would insist that they not take advantage of the suspension of the bombing."

Clifford told the panel he does not favor a bombing pause at this time.

Secret meetings on Vietnam, the Pueblo crisis and Asian aid were held over a two-day period by some of Johnson's closest advisers, with the President sitting in on some of them, the White House reported.

In other Vietnam-related developments:

McNamara halted combat use of the 5.56mm cartridge, which has been linked to jamming of the controversial M16 rifle. The cartridge contains a powder which causes a residue in the rifle, officials said.

In Boston, Dr. Benjamin Spock, who opposes the war, pleaded innocent along with four other men to charges of counseling young men to avoid the draft. They were released on bail and a trial is expected in the spring.

Reagan Calls Ship Handling A Big Blunder

RENO, Nev. (AP)—California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who says he has raised nearly $3 million for Republican war chests, left the Nevada GOP thousands of dollars richer today.

He raised the money in appearances yesterday in Las Vegas and Reno, where he said he was ashamed of the way the United States is handling North Korean capture of the USS Pueblo.

Party faithful contributed $500 a plate for breakfast with Reagan in Las Vegas and $50 each for dinner in the Reno suburb of Sparks.

The chairman of the northern Nevada event, Richard Horton, estimated the Washoe County Republican Central Committee grossed $20,000.

"No one should rest easy," Reagan told the dinner, "until the government has told them that ship (the Pueblo) and those men sailed out of that country.

"We are told that there was no action because all the ships in the area were equipped with nuclear retaliation," he said.

"We have fallen into the same old trap now—that of diplomatic channels," Reagan said. "We passed that magic 24-hour period of decisive action."

Hope Is Given Up In Finding Missing Sub

TOULON, France (UPI)—The French navy said today it had given up hope of finding alive the 52 crewmen aboard its submarine Minerve, missing since Saturday in the Mediterranean.

At the other end of the Mediterranean, the Israeli navy commander said the search for the Israeli submarine Dakar — missing since Thursday—would continue until she was found or concrete evidence was found as to her fate.

HOPE FADING

"Hopes are fading hourly," French Cmdr. Emile Beaufort told a news conference. "And even if the sub were located, the time needed to recover the boat would not allow us to find the crew alive."

Beaufort said even if Minerve were found within the next few hours, the oxygen on board would be all used up before the crew could be saved.

Beaufort said the rescue operations would continue at top speed. Undersea explorer Jacques-Yves Cousteau and his sophisticated diving saucer planned to try to locate Minerve later in the day.

FAILS TO RETURN

The 1,040-ton Minerve failed to return Saturday from a routine two-day mission to its Toulon home base. The 1,280-ton Dakar vanished Thursday with 69 men aboard on its way to Haifa from a two-year refitting in Britain, where Israel bought the 25-year-old vessel. Both subs are conventionally powered.

Israeli Commodore Shlomo Erel said yesterday he did not consider it likely that Dakar survived.

Hopes had been raised yesterday at both ends of the Mediterranean. In the Dakar search area an "indecipherable" radio beep had been detected. In the Minerve search area the ping of a sonar echo bounced off a metallic object.

Cousteau was to have taken his SP300 diving saucer into the water at dawn but later it was announced he would descend in the afternoon. The SP300 is lowered into the water from a mother ship.

LESSONS IN MUD — Custodian Manny Garcia sweeps out an inch of water and mud which flooded one of four classrooms at Bel Aire School, Tiburon yesterday. Despite the mess, lessons were not interupted, said Principal John C. Fitch, who blamed the collapse of a sewer drain trench on subdivision Reedland Woods No. 5 under construction at the rear of the school.

CRISIS

Assembly called a special session for tomorrow to discuss both the seizure of the Pueblo and the recent attempt by North Korean infiltrators to kill President Chung Hee Park.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen raised the timidity charge last night when he said the Administration "had not been assertive enough" in demanding the return of the Pueblo, while Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declared, "We must avoid a blood bath such as we have in Vietnam."

California Gov. Ronald Reagan, speaking in Reno, Nev., took much the same position. He said he was "deeply ashamed" of the way the Johnson Administration has failed to take a hard stand.

"It's the same old trap of going down diplomatic channels," Reagan said.

Mayor Hopes For Union Of Berlin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The mayor of West Berlin says that the divided capital of a divided Germany "lives in hope of being united again" but such a likelihood decreases with the passing of time.

But the economy of West Germany is fairly good and "our country is without a major crisis," Mayor Klaus Schutz told a news conference yesterday during his San Francisco stopover on a tour to court "five to 10-year investments from outside Germany."

He went to Los Angeles today before going to Washington, D.C. to meet tomorrow with President Johnson.

San Rafael Man Reported Missing

A 27-year-old San Rafael man was reported missing from his home last night and had not returned today, police reported.

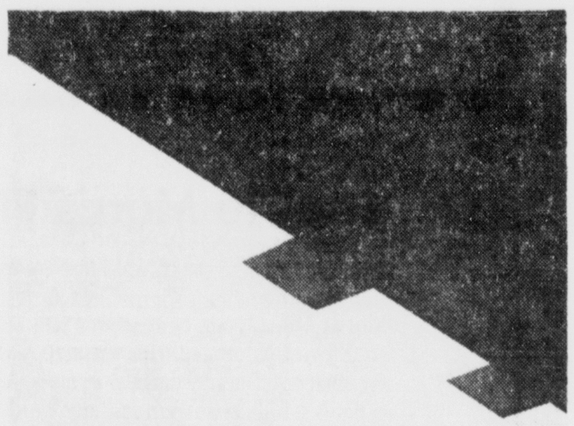
Anthony L. Deane was not at home when his wife, Diane A. Deane returned to their apartment at 423 First Street at 5 p.m.

He was described as wearing a brown coat and black shoes and had no transport or money.

Supervisors Back Bigger Span Panel

Marin County supervisors today unanimously endorsed a bill that would increase Marin representation on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District and expand the bridge district's authority to undertake all types of mass transit between Marin and San Francisco.

Assemblyman John F. Foran's bill, AB-175, would add two more representatives from Marin and one more from San Francisco to the 14-member bridge board. The San Francisco Democrat's bill would also allow the bridge district to study and undertake all modes of mass transit including ferryboats and tubes.



SCRAPING UP — The cleanup begins at Bel Aire School, Tiburon after the rains washed down mud from a nearby sub-division. The district will contract for the cleanup, sending the bill to the subdivision developers, Lytton Savings and Loan Association. (Independent-Journal photos)

WAR

Communists had threatened for days to "liberate" the town during the new year.

Corpora said elements of the 27th North Vietnamese Regiment surrounded Ban Me Thuot last night. They wore green fatigues, khakis and black pajama pants and white shirts with blue armbands to identify themselves as they slipped quietly into the city.

Firecracker explosions ushering in the new year muffled their movement.

Then they struck, touching off a fight that lasted all day and left three burned out tanks standing in the center of the town.

Government troops there killed 160 invaders in the fighting and helicopters killed 95 more. Government troops lost 40 killed and more than 100 wounded.

The story apparently was much the same in the other areas that bore the brunt of the offensive.

Fighting was reported tonight at Pleiku, Hoi An, Nha Trang and Kontum and on the outskirts of Da Nang. Saigon was warned of possible infiltration.

U.S. officials said the offensive apparently was plotted by Defense Minister Vo Nguyen Giap of North Vietnam who has massed 40,000 other troops near the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) and sent 20,000 of them toward Khe Sanh in a major threat to the U.S. Marine bastion there. (See also story, page 2.)

The clandestine Viet Cong radio said the attack was ordered to "punish the U.S. aggressors" for calling off the cease-fire in the five northern provinces where the enemy threat was greatest.

Report Due On Housing Land

A long-awaited citizens committee report on a proposed purchase of land at Hilarita Housing by the Reed School District will be presented to the board tomorrow.

The board meets at 8 p.m. in the Reed School library.

The report does not recommend specific acreage, although it talks about purchasing three to five acres to expand Reed School, according to Supt. H. Joe Edgington.

However, Edgington said today, he will recommend immediate action by the board so that he can negotiate with the Marin County Housing Authority for the acreage on which the trustees decide.

Innocent Plea To Slaying Pair

Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, of Santa Rosa, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to a charge he murdered a San Rafael barber and his wife in their Santa Venetia house trailer Jan. 13.

He and Johnny Lee Sommerhalder, 24, of Santa Rosa, members of a motorcycle gang, are accused of the shooting, stabbing and strangulation murders of Curtis O. Ackley, 27, and his wife, Shirley, 34. Sommerhalder had already entered an innocent plea.

Preliminary hearing on the charges against both men is scheduled for Thursday in Marin Municipal Court.

Jury Transcript Tells Confession By Marine

LeBas went to the door alone. When Marshall answered his knock, LeBas glanced back toward Novotny, then pushed his victim onto the floor of the house, where his head struck a table leg.

LeBas rushed inside and kicked Marshall twice into unconsciousness, then blindfolded him so he could not recognize Novotny.

Novotny came into the apartment and they began searching for guns and money. When Marshall started moaning and trying to get up, Novotny kicked him in the head a couple of times, LeBas said.

"Dennis was scared Mr. Marshall was going to, you know identify him. So he tried to knock him out again, which he couldn't," LeBas said.

"When we tied him up, I told Dennis how to tie him up the way we did in Vietnam. We tied them up with their hands in back of their body, bringing their legs up to their buttocks," LeBas said.

The two men got sixteen loaded handguns, 2,000 or 3,000 rounds of ammunition and eight books of postage stamps from Marshall's apartment, LeBas said.

They drove to Novotny's home, where they cleaned the guns. LeBas said they were there about 15 minutes, when Arceo came in and said:

"Well, it looks like you guys did all right, because I just drove by the place and there wasn't any police or any alarming things out there."

The three of them drove by the Marshall apartment the night after, too, LeBas said, and saw that the lights of his apartment were still dark.

Finding this, LeBas said, he telephoned Marin General Hospital, said a man was injured in the apartment next to 146 Bangalow and asked for an ambulance. LeBas told the Grand Jury he did not know Marshall's address.

He said he also called the Marin County Sheriff's Office, gave the same directions and told a deputy a man had been beaten and robbed.

"I said to knock on the door and if nobody answers to kick in the door because he's tied up," LeBas related.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said today his office received such a call, but that the information was referred to the San Rafael police.

San Rafael Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa said today a patrol car was sent to the scene to join the ambulance, but officer's inquiries turned up nothing amiss. He added that LeBas's anonymous request to kick the door of the victim's apartment was not relayed to his men.

LeBas told the jury he was worried about Marshall because no story appeared in the newspaper the day after the robbery and beating.

"Every time anybody does anything in this county, it's in the papers, even if they jaywalk," he said.

Marshall was not found that night. All was calm at 146 Bungalow Avenue and authorities decided they were the victims of a crank call.

Meanwhile, neighbors had become worried about the disappearance of Marshall. Residents told police they knocked on his door the afternoon and evening of Dec. 8 and they heard him say: "I'm all right."

A neighbor finally entered the home Dec. 9 and found Marshall, bloodied and bruised. The gun fancier had worked himself free from this bonds.

Marshall died in Marin General Hospital Jan. 6 of complications which arose from the beating. No explanation has been given as to why he did not seek help after untying himself.

Congress In No Mood To Tackle Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's record $186.1 billion budget generated immediate congressional warnings that spending must be slashed before the administration's 10 per cent income tax surcharge will be considered.

But while calling for cuts, members of the Senate and House seemed likely to oppose trimming expenses along those lines suggested by Johnson.

Since the general outlines of the budget had been known, Congress wasn't surprised when the formal message submitted yesterday called for a $10.4 billion spending increase.

DEFICIT FIGURE

The budget also included a built-in $8 billion deficit—down from this fiscal year's $19.8 billion red ink forecast but certain to go higher if the tax hike isn't approved.

Most Republicans, while not slamming the door on the possibility of a tax increase, continued to put heavy emphasis on chopping spending before—or even instead of—asking taxpayers for further sacrifices.

Terming the budget "unbelievable," House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford said it contains no belt-tightening of "the kind we need to avoid a tax increase."

The Democrat with most to say about the tax increase, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee, kept his counsel for the present. Interviewed in his Arkansas district, Mills said he would have more to say when he has studied the budget.

When his committee last week shelved the income tax surcharge proposal for the third time, Mills told administration witnesses he thought they could do a bit better at budget cutting.

"I have no doubt Congress can and will make meaningful reductions," said Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee.

Mahon, who helped steer through a mandatory spending cut last year, said he thinks Congress was right not to raise taxes then. But he added that now "we must provide additional revenue—there is no doubt about that in my mind."

But Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio, senior Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, complained "the Johnson administration still refuses to heed the taxpayers' demands for expenditure restraint."

SYNANON

Michel and Keck have died. Moseley is attempting to sell the buildings for about $3.5 million, he said today.

Dan L. Garrett, director of the San Francisco division of Synanon, said that the organization hopes to have 500 members, addicts and non-addicts who see Synanon as a way of life, living in Marin by 1968. About 100 of that total would be at Marshall, the rest elsewhere in Marin. He declined to specify where.

Teacher's Firing Hearing Is Set

Mrs. Garnet E. Brennan, the marijuana-smoking school teacher and principal, will go to court the week of May 20 over her firing by the Nicasio School District board of trustees.

Marin Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday set that week as the date for a trial to determine if the board had a right to fire Mrs. Brennan, once she signed an affidavit admitting 18 years of marijuana use.

Mrs. brennan is asking the court to give her the job back, saying the school board deprived her of her right to free speech under the first amendment by firing her.

The trustees claim her admission constituted immoral conduct.

years cities have expanded by annexationa and two new cities have incorporated, so the portion of the county dependent solely on sounty services has decreased.

It noted that an audit last June 30 showed budgeting beyond expenditures of $559,000 in 1965, $926,000 in 1966, and $920,000 in 1967. "Overbudgeting is not a good practice," it held, and "better control should be instituted when the budgets are approved."

The committee also called attention to $250,012 for extra hire in the approved 1968 budget and raised the question whether such an amount is necessary.

It suggested the board of supervisors require monthly reports from each department showing the authorized staff and the actual staff.

The county offices committee compared the county administrator's office with those in Monterey, Solano, Sonoma, Stanislaus and Tulare counties —all near Marin's size. It found the duties apparently similar, with Marin's cost of $112,251 for the administrator the second highest in the group.

Slowdown of real estate and construction activity, said the committee, has reduced activity in recorder, planning, public workks and other departments. "However, no reduction of personnel has resulted," it observed.

It also noted that the auditor-controller reported that since 1958, county accounts totaling about $5 million have been written off as uncollectible.

It found the recorder's office overstaffed for the workload, and recommended temporary transfer of some personnel from that to other departments.

The data processing bureau, it reported, as of last February was utilizing its equipment only 88 hours although its contract with International Business Machines is for 176 hours of use per month. Since then, it noted, the department has a new director "and we see evidence of progress and efficiency." However, it recommended the 1968 grand jury review the data processing bureau again.

The committee noted that several suggestions it had made to department heads during the year were carried out. One not yet carried out, however, was a recommendation for changes in handling the county employees' retirement fund. It recommended these changes be made "to insure better control and good accounting procedures."

The committee called attention to recommendations in an accountant's report June 30 for changes in operation of the social service (welfare) department. These have not been made, it said. It urged they be made, and that the 1968 grand jury "verify the adoption of the suggestions."

Members of the committee, besides chairman Ostaggi, a retired banker, were Ernest C. Kroll, Fred R. Mantegani, William A. Henderson, and Lawrence G. Garrett.

Foreman Lund said reports of other committees of the grand jury will follow each day throughout the week.

Bill Asks Fifth Judge In Marin

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Bills giving Marin County a fifth Superior Court judge and increasing the salary of full time official court reporters in Marin were introduced today by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Bagley, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, said committee policy requires that his bill adding a fifth judge first must be approved by the state's Judicial Council. Superior Court judges are paid $25,000 a year, of which the state pays about three-quarters.

The other bill would raise their court reporters' salary from $12,000 to $14,000. Because the county pays the full salary, the bill's passage will be contingent upon approval by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, said Bagley.

Campus Underground Paper Curbs Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The chairman of the Assembly Education Committee called today for new "moral standards" set by the state to regulate the growing number of underground newspapers at the University of California and state colleges.

"I would not permit unrestricted use of language and subject matter," said Leroy Greene, D-Sacramento.

These papers — often filled with protests against the Vietnam war and campus administrators — should be subject to regulation by school authorities, Greene said. They are usually printed off campus by students unhappy with regular campus papers.

He spoke in an interview as his committee began its final two days of hearings on problems of student conduct at higher education campuses. The hearings were called in December after demonstrations at San Francisco State College.

Greene said the papers sometimes contain obscene language and proposed that the university regents and the state college trustees set up rules regulating the publications and the language they use. Violators, he suggested, should be suspended from school.

Another committee member, Assemblyman John Stull, R-Leucadia, said he had read a newspaper story that 20 University of California at San Diego faculty members had sent telegrams to what he described as a Japanese "left-wing student union" which congratulated the Japanese for protests against the arrival of an American aircraft carrier.

Stull, n a telegram to university regents, said the governing board "must take firm action against those elements which are alienated from our society."

The hearing was one of several educational developments in the legislature.

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, circulated an opinion from the legislature's lawyer which he said showed the university regents must open all their meetings to the public.

Bagley, chairman of the Assembly Open Meeting and Public Records Advisory Committee, said the legislative counsel ruled the regents are covered by the state's Brown Act which bans public bodies from meeting privately in most cases.

"We will now await the regents' adherance to this law," Bagley said.

"If a definitive high court decision rules likewise, then the regents will be mandated to hold their meetings open to the public at all times, subject to exceptions made for local government and other state agencies." Meetings dealing with personnel problems and pending lawsuits are exempt.

Senator Asks Abolition Of Veto Session

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A constitutioal amendment to abolish the special five-day veto session was before the Senate today.

Sen. Albert S. Rodda, D-Sacramento, submitted the legislation yesterday and said the session was expensive, accomplished nothing and aggravated partisanship.

"History has demonstrated that vetoes are very seldom overriden and that not one measure was enacted over the governor's veto during the special veto session in 1967," Rodda said.

Assemblyman George W. Milias, R-Gilroy, previously proposed a constitutional amendment that would put the special veto session into the first five days of next year's regular session.

The veto session, which follows the regular session by 30 days, was added to the state constitution by the voters when they approved Proposition 1A in the 1966 election establishing annual general sessions.

Poverty War Session Report Is Clarified

In a recent Independent-Journal report of a Marin Economic Opportunity Council meeting, Mrs. Virginia Baker of Fairfax was identified as chairman of the Americanism committee of the San Anselmo American Legion Auxiliary. Mrs. Baker is co-chairman rather than chairman.

In her remarks at the EOC meeting, Mrs. Baker said John R. Palunco Jr., chairman of the Fairfax-San Anselmo Target Area, had spurned her offer for the Legion Auxiliary to sponsor a "Big Brother" program. Mrs. Baker wishes it clarified that she did not commit the auxiliary to the program but offered to present it to her organization for sponsorship outside the EOC.

MONKEYS SAY HAPPY NEW YEAR 4,666

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The year 4,666, or the year of the monkey, begins today for observers of the lunar calendar.

San Francisco's Chinese population celebrated new year's last night with traditional family gatherings.

A week-long new year's festival will begin Feb. 3. Lion dancers will be out Saturday and Sunday to entertain Chinatown residents and visitors.

The annual Chinese New Year's parade is scheduled for Feb. 10.

The year 4,666 signifies health, success and protection. Under Chinese lore it also signifies a year of change.

Open Primary Law Proposed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An "open" presidential primary election would be held in California starting in 1971 under a bill facing the legislature.

Sen. Alfred E. Alquist, D-San Jose, introduced a measure Monday to put on the ballot the names of all prominently mentioned candidates, as is done in Oregon.

Alquist last year carried a similar measure which was rejected in a party-line Senate vote, with Republican oppposed.

Run-Off Elections At Redwood Today

Run-off elections for the student posts of senior class secretary and sophomore class treasurer will be held at Redwood High School today rather than as scheduled yesterday, William David Wilkinson, dean of student activities, announced.

Marie Adams of Corte Madera and Bonnie Anker of Tiburon tied for secretary. Phil Hoehn and Debra Leininger, both of Greenbrae, tied for treasurer.

Unruh's Fiscal Watchdog Plan Opposed By Miller

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A powerful Democratic legislator has joined with Gov. Ronald Reagan in questioning the need for legislation proposed by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Onglewood, to create a committee to watchdog the governor's Finance Department.

Sen. George Miller Jr., D-Martinez, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, said yesterday that Unruh's plan is "not necessary and unduly costly."

Miller said the Joint Legislative Budget Committee, which he heads, could handle the tasks "with very little added cost."

Unruh had proposed legislation yesterday to create a Joint Economic Committee to analyze the governor's annual economic reports, monitor the governor's and the federal government's decisions affecting the state's economy and to evaluate the accuracy and adequacy of the governor's income and expense estimates for the state.

Unruh's proposal is supported by Republican Assemblyman John G. Veneman of Modesto, chairman of the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee.

Reagan said Unruh's proposal might result in "useless duplication," but said he plans to "look at it very carefully."

Transit Favored In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Preliminary plans for a rapid transit system in Los Angeles have been endorsed by the City Council after a three-hour debate by the councilmen on a committee report approving the plans.

Some councilmen questioned whether transit planners would be guided by the city's thoughts on the proposed $1.5 billion network. The committee report, which received a favorable 10-3 vote yesterday, generally agrees on council plans for a 62-mile commuter system.

However the council recommended some changes in design, routes and station locations from those proposed by the Joint Planning and Industry and Transportation Committee.

Fracas County Heard

Bryce Lawrence MacMillan Jr. of 370 Holly Street, Novato, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on two felony charges that he struck police officers in a Sausalito tavern fracas Dec. 17. His case was continued until Feb. 13 for entry of plea.

Heir's Body Found; GI Suspect Held

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (UPI)— Sheriff C. P. Turner today charged Miguel Galligas Ybarra, 22, of Odessa, Tex., with murdering Michael Robineau, 23, heir to a $3 million Denver, Colo., oil fortune.

The complaint, filed before Justice of the Peace O. L. Miller, said Ybarra "with malice aforethought killed Michael Robineau by shooting him with a gun."

Ybarra was turned over to officials at Odessa by his father and until he was charged in San Angelo with murder had been held as an AWOL soldier from Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio, Tex. He refused earlier today to take a polygraph (lie detector) test.

Robineau's body was found yesterday beside a cotton field near Wall, Tex., a community of 200 persons about 15 miles east of San Angelo. He had been missing since Friday when he was discharged from the Army at Fort Sam Houston in San Angelo.

A Texas ranger said the soldier's description matched a man seen in a car believed to be Robineau's in Big Lake, Tex., where the murdered man's auto was found Saturday, with blood stains inside.

Police chief Melvin James said Robineau's body was found by a 15-year-old boy who was hunting.

The body was found in an open field just off a country road near U.S. 87, about a mile west of Wall.

Police said Robineau's wallet and papers were gone.

Robineau had been shot once in the face.

"Apparently Mr. Robineau had picked up someone who was hitchhiking," James said.

Robineau left Fort Sam Houston Friday after telling his wife, Patty, in Denver he was on his way.

Robineau was the son of the late M.H. Robineau of Denver who died last August. The senior Robineau had been president of Frontier Refining Co.

He is accused of slaying his wife Hildegard, 42, and wounding her attorney, Daniel Sheehan, 34 and two of her witnesses as they awaited a divorce proceeding.

John B. Norberg, 55, one of Mrs. Dilbeck's witnesses, testified against Dilbeck.

According to Deputy Dist. Atty. Patrick McCormick, the attorney and the other wounded witness are still in the hospital.

Recalled Reservists Settle Into Routine

Although the approximately 1,000 men of the 349th Military Airlift Wing who were recalled to active duty last week have settled down to daily military life, there is still the tension of not knowing where or when they will be given an assignment.

There men of the 938 Military Airlift Group were part of the President's callup of Air Force reserves. (See also the Korea crisis story on page 1.)

Men who were unable to commute to and from the base were given base housing and are fed at the base mess halls, according to base officials.

One additional barracks and another mess hall were opened for them, officials said.

"The other outfits on the base have been bending over backwards to aid us and have been very generous with their help to us," said Brig. Gen. Rollin B. Moore, commander of the 349th.

The military airlift wing is continuing to make flights of materials to the Far East as it has in the past, General Moore said. He would not make any comment on whether there were more or fewer of these since the recall.

"Otherwise the men have settled down to perform their military jobs the same as they had been trained to do while under reserve status," the general said.

Pair Arraigned On Burglary

George Franklin Battensby, 58, of San Anselmo, and his son-in-law, Thomas Gaylon Wood, 28, of San Pablo, were arraigned in Marin Municipal Court yesterday on charges of burglary and concealing stolen property.

San Anselmo police reportedly found loot from the Sept. 5 burglary of Braverman's furniture store, San Anselmo, at Battensby's home at 25 Spring Grove Avenue, and at Wood's home.

Their cases were continued a week for entry of plea.

Flexibility Of Classes Is Requested

Need for more flexibility in class period lengths for seventh and eighth graders at Adaline E. Kent School was discussed at last night's meeting of the Kentfield School District board.

Thomas H. Smith, Kent School principal, and Robert E. Shore, administrative assistant, told trustees the pupils would benefit more in some classes if the current practice of 41-minute periods could be adjusted according to learning needs.

No action was taken.

Request by Mrs. Avanell Munch for a 1968-69 school year leave of absence from teaching at Wolf Grade was approved, and resignation of Mrs. Carol Spores, superintendent's secretary, to teach in Novato kindergarten schools was accepted, effective immediately.

The board appointed Mrs. Mary Perry to take Mrs. Spores' place, and hired Mrs. Shirley Mosley as half-time district office secretary.

County Officials Cautious About Marin Role In Bay Park District

By WAT TAKESHITA

Two county officials who have considered the possibility of Marin's joining the East Bay Regional Park District, said the idea has merit, but it is best to proceed slowly.

"At present," said Supervisor Peter H. Behr, "I would lean more toward a conutywide recreation district than joining the East Bay district."

VARIOUS AVENUES

"We should look at various possibilities — to form our own district with or without neighbors, or joining East Bay," said Pierre W. Joske director of the county recreation and park department.

Behr and Joske gave their statements when asked to comment on suggestions made by Mrs. Margaret Azevedo during a candidates night in Mill Valley last Wednesday.

Mrs. Azevedo, who is running for the post of supervisor in the Third District, said she favors a move todward annexing to the East Bay district if feasible or forming another regional park or sub-regional park including San Francisco and Sonoma.

Two other candidates for supervisor disagreed with Mrs. Azevedo.

Michael Wornum said he fears that Marin would have too small a voice if it joined the heavily populated East Bay district. Bernardino (Ben) A. Farlatti said he also fears turning over control to the East Bay.

PROS AND CONS

Joske, county recreation director, cited both advantages and the disadvantages of joining the East Bay district.

"The advantage is that we can work with a known budget because up to 10 cents per $100 can be budgeted strictly for parks," said Joske. "This makes it easier to plan in advance because you know what you will get each year."

"The disadvantage," said Joske, "is the political danger of proliferation of single-purpose governments like this."

There is also a possibility that Marin could form its own regional park or a regional park with other counties like San Francisco and Sonoma, he added.

Behr said he would favor a countywide regional park district, and eventually, perhaps a regional park district embracing other counties surrounding the bay.

"Parks and recreation have always been a stepchild of every county and city budget," said Behr. "This particular budget suffers the most because parks have been regarded historically as luxuries. In present day society, they are more and more becoming necessities, not only for children but for grownups too.

MARIN PLAN

"They really shouldn't be subject to climate of opinion at a particular time each year. So I would strongly favor a countywide regional park district."

"In time it may be very sensible to consider one regional park district which would embrace Solano, Napa, Marin, Sonoma, and San Francisco together with Alameda and Contra Costa. But it's a little too soon. We can fall flat on our face if we go too fast . . ."

Behr pointed out that in the East Bay Regional Park District, the 10-cent tax rate raises about $3 million per year. If marin had its own regional park district, a 10-cent rate would raise about $500,000 each year, compared to this fiscal year's $261,625.

"I think we'd save a lot of money because we would have funds to make opportunity purchases." Behr said the money should then be spent on recreation-oriented facilities rather than on pure conservation.

Price Is Set On Tuna Hauls

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Tuna fishermen are preparing to resume fishing, knowing for the first time how much their work is worth.

A price of $307 a ton for primarily yellowfin was agreed upon yesterday when bids from five canneries were accepted by the American Tuna Sales Association.

The agreement ended a tieup that began last October when members of the association refused to go to sea without guaranteed prices. Fishermen previously sold catches after returning from fishing trips.

The bids result in a $40-a-ton increase over the last amount paid by canners for domestically caught tuna.

Rare Dollar Bill Leads To Murder Suspects

SACRAMENTO (AP) —Two teen-agers were in custody today in the vicious slaying last week of an assemblyman's secretary whose sons were friends of the arrested youths.

Gregory Lane Sinclear, 19, and Peter John Saliber, 18, were booked on murder charges in the bludgeon death of Miriam H. Martin, 44, in her North Highlands home Jan. 23.

Sheriff John Misterly said the youths, who live in the same north Sacramento suburb several blocks from the victim, were arrested yesterday afternoon after a tip from two store employees.

Misterly said the clerks reported one of the youths paid for a purchase with a somewhat rare silver certificate dollar bill, the same type as was in a collection stolen from Mrs. Martin's home the day of her death. That type of bill is generally out of circulation, replaced by federal reserve notes.

Misterly said the theft backed up theories that Mrs. Martin, home with a serious cold, surprised someone in a burglary.

The brunette housewife-secretary was found unconscious and near death in her blood-spattered home by her 9-year-old son Chris returning from school.

She died moments later on the way to a hospital. A coroner's autopsy showed she had been struck about 40 times in the head with a blunt object and other injuries indicated a violent struggle.

Misterly said the arrested youths were acquaintances of the victim's other sons, Michael 19, and David, 18, and that she would have recognized them.

Mrs. Martin, personal secretary to Democratic Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan of Burlingame was the second legislative secretary slain recently.

Assemblyman Kent Stacey's Bakersfield secretary, Miss Dominga Montoya, was fatally attacked in a Bakersfield laundromat last April.

Misterly said the quick arrests on such few clues was "very, very unusual."

Politicos Get Color TV Studio

REDWOOD CITY (AP) — Your own Congressman in living color on your TV set is the prospect served up by the Ampex Corp.

The electronics firm announces it has installed a new color videotape production system in the recording studios at the House of Representatives in Washington.

Purchased by the congressmen who will use it, the setup includes two Ampex VR-1200 high band color recorders and a Marconi Mark VII color camera.

Until now dependent mostly on the mail to reach their constituents, Congressmen now can send video tapes to stations in their own districts.

SAN JOSE (AP) — A driver ran a stop sign in the rain and was hit broadside in the intersection. Four persons died and five were seriously injured.

Police identified the dead yesterday as Benjamin Diaz, 27, who the Highway Patrol said ran through the stop sign; Joseph Raiche, 24, who was alone in the other car; Virginia Ellen Rotolo, 29, and a 6-months-old baby boy named Gregory Osborn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Osborn.

Mrs. Rotolo was a passenger with the Osborn baby in the Diaz car.

The five children injured were David, Tina and Benjamin Diaz Jr., and Deborah and Jean Rotolo.

All involved were from San Jose.

High Court Throws Out Gaming Tax

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Supreme Court yesterday all but nullified a 1954 antigambling law. It ruled that a gambler can exempt himself from prosecution for failing to register and pay special taxes by claiming possible self-incrimination.

The 7-1 decision did not declare the law unconstitutional but it gave bookies and other professional gamblers a wide loophole to avoid punishment for refusal to comply.

In dissent, Chief Justice Earl Warren insisted the virtual effect of the majority opinion by Justice John M. Harlan was to render the law not only unenforceable but unconstitutional as well.

The law, enacted after crime hearings conducted by the late Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., required gamblers to register with the government, to pay a flat $50 tax to operate and an additional 10 per cent of their gross betting intake.

In other actions before taking a five-week recess, the court:

Similarly struck down a federal law requiring anyone possessing a sawed-off shotgun to register with the government. Again the vote was 7 to 1 with Warren dissenting. The decision reversed the conviction of a Dallas man, Miles Edward Haynes, who was sentenced to four years in prison for failing to register.

Rejected a new local move by Teamster President James R. Hoffa to obtain a new trial of the jury tampering charges which resulted in his being sent to federal prison. Hoffa claimed that newly discovered evidence showed improper conduct by the jurors who found him guilty in his 1964 Chattanooga, Tenn. trial.

Turned down efforts by four railroad unions to regain thousands of jobs lost under a compulsory arbitration law enacted by Congress to prevent a rail strike in 1963. The Court also refused to weigh objections by the carriers to a lower court ruling which put an end to the job elimination procedures. Most of the jobs involved were those of firemen on diesel engines in freight and yard service.

Agreed to hear a case which will decide whether New York City may fire municipal employees who refuse to answer questions about their conduct in office on grounds of possible self-incrimination. The 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals held last September that the city had the right to dismiss 15 sanitation workers for such a cause.

Rejected an appeal by a group of Negroes who contended racial discrimination was involved in the routing of a portion of an interstate highway through a predominantly Negro district in North Nashville, Tenn.

Fairfax Sets Hearing On Undergrounding

The Fairfax Planning Commission will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. today at the Fairfax Women's Club on a proposed ordinance requiring placing utilities underground.

The ordinance would require underground utilities for any subdivision but the requirement may be waived for subdivisions of four lots or less.

Check Count Denied

Lucia Cunningham of Belmont, San Mateo County, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court yesterday to a charge she passed a $399.73 fraudulent check at the Hi Ho Motel in Alto July 11. Her case was transferred to Judge Joseph G. Wilson's court for setting of a jury trial date.

Court's Gun Ruling Snags Thoresen Case

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A U.S. Supreme Court decision has wiped out much of the government's case against wealthy William Thoresen III and his collection of 77 tons of guns and ammunition, says the federal judge handling the case.

The Supreme Court ruled yesterday that the government cannot force individuals to register their sawed-off shotguns, machine guns and certain other arms because to do so might unconstitutionally require them to incriminate themselves.

U.S. District Judge Oliver J. Carter said nine of 22 charges against Thoresen, the 31-year-old multimillionaire son of the president of Great Western Steel Co. of Chicago, and all 11 charges against Thoresen's wife, Louise, are for possession of unregistered weapons.

"I intend to dismiss the charges against Mrs. Thoresen and the first nine counts against Thoresen if the Supreme Court decisions bear me out," said Judge Carter.

He said he had not seen the actual Supreme Court decision and has asked the U.S. Attorney to find out what the position of the Department of Justice will be on the remaining 13 charges against Thoresen. These are charges that he engaged in interstate shipment of arms, while guilty of a felony.

The felony conviction was based on his plea of guilty at Bar Harbor Maine, to the theft of some travel posters. His defense contends he pleaded guilty mistakenly to a felony charge when it should have been petty theft. It is now trying to get the State Supreme Court of Maine to change this.

The Thoresens next come up before Judge Carter on Feb. 6 when arguments are scheduled on a defense motion for a change of venue. The defense claims the Thoresens cannot get a fair trial here because of wide publicity the case has attracted.

Bad Checks Denied

Linda Margaret Mayer, 18, of 540 Heather Way, San Rafael, pleaded innocent in Marin Superior Court Friday to two charges of passing and possessing fraudulent checks in San Rafael during November and December. Her case was transferred to Judge Joseph Wilson's court for setting of a jury trial date.

Navy Man Hurt In Car Crash

A 20-year-old Naval petty officer suffered scalp cuts Saturday in a single-car accident on northbound Highway 101, south of the Corte Madera overpass, according to the California Highway Patrol.

A car driven by William T. Andersen of 440 Alameda De La Loma, Novato, skidded and crashed through the chain link fence, went across Paradise Drive and hit the Big-Four-Rent building causing minor damage at 5:45 a.m., patrolmen reported.

Petty officer Andersen, stationed on the USS Vallejo, was taken to Marin General Hospital by Larkspur police, then transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital where his injuries were treated.

Fairfax Repeats Clean-Up Honors

For the second consecutive year, Fairfax has won a distinguished achievement award from the National Clean Up-Paint Up-Fix Up Bureau in Washington, D. C. for its civic beautification program.

The city was runner-up in the competition of cities with communities with fewer than 25,000 persons. Its achievements will be told at the National Cleanest Town Conference Feb. 20 in Washington, D. C.

The award was made for having wide citizen participation the campaing that included making debris boxes available, distribution of litter bags for cars and of flower seeds, planting trees on Center Boulevard, a clean-up poster contest in local schools.

Highway Patrol Open House Set To Seek Recruits

Marin headquarters for the California Highway Patrol in Corte Madera will hold an informational "open house" from 7-9 p.m. tomorrow for prospective patrolmen.

Those considering joining the patrol and their families may view the office and patrol vehicles and see a movie on the four months patrol training course in Sacramento. Some colleges give credit in police science for those completing the course.

Applications for the patrol which has 1,500 openings, may be obtained at the patrol office, 6120 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera, or at the San Rafael office of the California Department of Employment.

Applicants must have completed high school, must be 21 to 32 years of age and between five feet, nine inches and six feet, six inches tall. They must pass a written test, personnel interview and physical test.

Feb. 9 is the deadline for filing applications to take the next test on March 2.

Informal Hearing Set On Proposed Creek Dredging

An informal public hearing for criticism or suggestions on the proposed forming of a San Clemente creek dredging project assessment district will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at town hall, Arthur N. Morrison, director of public works for Corte Madera, has announced.

Morrision said this hearing is not required by law, but is being held so persons who initiated the project can be informed of what soil and waterway consultants have accomplished.

East Corte Madera residents whose property is adjacent to the creek are seeking a district for dredging to permit small boats to operate from the creek to San Francisco Bay at low tide.

The town council received a petition bearing 129 signatures and on Oct. 16 passed a resolution of intent to form the district. Project progress is scheduled to be presented to the council next Monday. A rqulred public hearing may then be scheduled, by the council Morrison said.

Union, Papers Reject Alioto Mediate Offer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Mailers Union strike against the San Francisco newspaper Printing Co. went into its 26th day today after both sides declined Mayor Joseph Alioto's offer to mediate the dispute.

But the Photoengravers Union, working since October without a contract and one of 14 unions supporting the mailers' walkout, said "we are still progressing" after a negotiating session with employers yesterday.

Union Secretary Russ Wilson said sessions so far involved "plowing through the language" of a new standard contract form that is being introduced to newspapers across the country.

Wilson said economic issues have not yet been put on the table for discussion and that the next session is scheduled for tomorrow.

Meanwhile, with more than 2,000 men and women with a wide variety of skills idled, the San Francisco-Oakland Newspaper Guild at 433 Natoma Street in San Francisco has established a pool of workers for employers to draw on for temporary and parttime work.

Mayor Alioto said of his offer that both sides "told me the time is not quite right. Perhaps the time had better start getting right."

The mailers struck Jan. 5 after talks bogged down on a new contract to replace one which expired last March.

In Los Angeles, negotiations between the striking American Newspaper Guild and the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner are still in recess, but a union spokesman says they may resume tomorrow or Thursday.

Monthly Session

A meeting of the Kentfield Fire District board to approve monthly warrants is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Kentfield Fire Station. Chief Kenneth Kamp said no other business is expected.

Campers Accept New State Policy

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — William Penn Mott, Jr., state director of parks and recreation, has reported public acceptance of the department's new plan for reservations at state camping spots has been excellent.

"The success of the program is very evident from the tremendous numbers of reservation requests coming in to our parks," Mott said.

The reservation system, just started Jan. 1, applies to 74 parks in which camping is permitted so there is no actual count of the number of requests so far. However, Mott said all campsites at Seacliff state beach in Santa Cruz county had been reserved for Easter Week.

Camping space also is in high demand at Carpinteria state beach in Santa Barbara county and at San Clemente and Doheney beaches in Orange County.

State beaches, in general, are attracting more reservations than for parks in the mountain areas. A sampling of nine state beaches also showed that twice as many reservations are being received for August than for July.

Heyns Feels Universities Thrust Into Parental Role

Universities today are expected to replace "former sources of guidance" once provided by the church, state and other institutions, such as the family, which at one time "rigidly circumscribed" our society, says University of California Chancellor Roger W. Heyns.

Heyns told a county wide meeting of Marin Rotary clubs yesterday that the role is "fundamentally improper," but since it has been thrust upon the university it must be understood by both sides of "the delicate and artistic" partnership that now exists between the university and the community.

TENSION CITED

He said the fact that so much is expected of the university is one reason for public misunderstanding during the various crises that arise on campus. About 250 Rotarians attended the luncheon at Sabella's Restaurant luncheon. Represented were clubs in San Rafael, Sausalito, Novato, San Anselmo, Terra Linda and Mill Valley.

Heyns said the open society in which the university had been pushed into a role of new importance is one in which there is much anxiety and discontent growing out of "an enormous amount of tension." He listed some of the sources of the tension — the war in Vietnam, the pill, decay of cities, problems of affluence, problems of the school teachers themselves.

NO ESCAPE

"Every one of these problems involves the university in one way or another," he said. "There is no way to escape them. We are no longer in an ivory tower."

He added, "People today are freed of traditional restraints in a world too complex to understand. The university cannot fill the void alone. The family, the church and other institutions cannot overlook the problems of the university."

BEHAVIOR RULES

Heyns said one problem now at the University of California is drawing new and fine lines of behavior for students and faculty participating in the new role of the university.

"The university was not sufficiently alert that there are people within the university who want to capture it and turn it into an instrument of social action," he said.

He said the members of his own generation, which included most of his Rotary audience, need not be unduly frightened at student behavior in which "the familiar has been transformed to the strange."

PROFILE OF STUDENT

Most of the students, he said, "are fundamentally involved." He gave the Rotarians a profile of the U.C. freshman, drawn from a questionaire that was distributed at the university last autumn. They are very bright, he said, interested in social studies and mankind, more interested in doing good for man than in earning money, and they read and study a great deal more than their parents did in college.

Wrong Driver Named As Running Yield Sign

Not Michael J. Abel, 17, of 120 Linden Lane, San Rafael, but Don Lee Wilson, 39, of 253 San Jose Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, went through a yield sign at 10:45 p.m. Friday in a two-car collision.

Yesterday's Independent-Journal story reported incorrectly that Abel drove through the sign at the Highway 101 exit to Nave Drive in Novato.

"HEY, WAIT FOR ME," says Mrs. George Lester as she hurries to join a trio on their way to the Octagon House at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross. On Feb. 5, the Octagon House will be the setting for the opening of a weekly Monday luncheon series planned by the new Pathfinders section at the center. Monday Lunches Set At Center

A series of Monday luncheons open to the public is planned by the new Pathfinders section of Marin Art and Garden Center, who hope to fill a request by many visitors to the Ross grounds.

Beginning next Monday luncheon will be served each Monday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Octagon House, home of the new group. Pathfinders hope eventually to extend this service on a daily basis, operating from October through June.

Pathfinders is the first new addition at the center in six years, and brings to 11 the number of sections formed in the history of the 45-year-old Marin cultural center. The new group is open to membership for both men and women. Inquiries concerning membership and reservations for the luncheons may be made at the Center office on the grounds.

THE LUNCHEON idea was sparked by a small group headed by Mrs. Arthur Gustafson, and given an enthusiastic go-ahead by the center board of directors. "So may people have inquired about a tea room on the grounds that a food service was a natural for the Pathfinders' first endeavor," explained Mrs. Gustafson.

Their first event she described as a highly successful service of hot split pea soup and French bread at the Christmas Greens sale. "We were so encouraged by the compliments and urged to continue," the president said, "so we planned the February luncheons around a series of gourmet soups, special breads, and fancy desserts, plus tea and coffee."

"We have an exciting feeling that these weekly specials will soon become the 'in' thing to attend in Marin," she added. "It will be a great convenience to visitors as well as fun for various groups meeting at the center."

MENUS FOR the Monday luncheons include the split pea soup, as well as a famous New Orleans gumbo, cream of fresh mushroom, and for the Feb. 5 date, French onion soup. Desserts will include a light

BARE BOSOMS

So Who Cares About The Hemlines?

PARIS (UPI) — Hemlines? Good heavens! No one thought to notice hemlines when young designer Yves St. Laurent bared his 1968 summer fashions today. They were too startled to find he had bared the bosom.

They weren't completely bare but they might as well have been. His only concession to modesty was to enclose the models in a sheer black, see-through chiffon shirt that left nothing to the imagination.

The shirts were worn first with hipster Bermudas under a long Edwardian style jacket.

THEN THEY WERE shown under a long, quilted trouser suit with a coat whose neckline plunged to the waist. And when the coat came off, the side-draped black blouse not only revealed the bosom but swung open to show a great amount of flesh not even covered with black.

In doing so St. Laurent went along with a trend that has startled audiences at the Paris showings. A man no longer has to go to a girly show—he just dresses his lady in the latest style.

LIKE THE BETTER collections this season St. Laurent did not bother to play with the hemline. He came up with a collection that was as sleek and as sophisticated as it was daring.

He liked black and white and navy and white. And the colors seemed almost to be glued to his models' bodices. They often covered their hips just as tightly.

St. Laurent, who is a proclaimed follower of Gabrielle "Coco" Chanel — and whose collection last season showed it —was one of the leaders in the return towards femininity that waited until this season to sweep through the collections.

IN FACT, the season so far looks almost Chanel-inspired, with lots of good wearable suits, many with simple cardigan jackets and lots and lots of very feminine organdies and organzas.

The look may indeed actually be at least partially Chanel-inspired.

Madame lost her temper last year and told off the entire haute couture industry for what she considered crimes against the female form. She said that male couturiers only cared how their clothes looked and not a whit about the women wearing them.

This spring's showings couldn't have been a nicer apology, whether that was the way it was intended or not.

Even Cardin, whom Chanel considered one of the worst of a bad lot last year, came up with some very flattering, feminine clothes this season—although he also showed some that would have sent her stomping out of the salon in horror.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

With A Car Comes A Feeling Of Freedom–From Steadying

DEAR HELEN:

I've been going steady with this boy for over a year and I like him very much, but since he started to drive he has gone haywire. He looks at all the girls we pass. That doesn't bother me too much, but one night he and his boy friend were driving around and they picked up two girls and took them for something to eat.

I know because one of the girls bragged about it. I'm being ribbed. My boy friend told me the only reason was he was hungry and the girls said they'd treat. He swears it won't happen again.

I try to understand, but I'm afraid he might get hungry again. If he'll take a girl riding for a lousy hamburger, what would he do if she offered him a steak dinner? — TEASED

DEAR TEASED:

He'd probably turn her down, unless he was hungry for a new "dish." Could be he's tired of the "steady" diet. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My Mom died when I was nine and my father ran off, so I'm a Welfare Kid and hate it. All my foster parents think of is an education. A 17-year-old girl wants some fun, too. They think I'll run off with my boy friend, so they restrict me.

I'm not liked at school. I'm not their kind.

The other girl at the home can flirt, whoop and holler over boys but our keepers don't mind. Let me step outside with a guy and they figure I'm "that kind."

Even my boyfriend isn't nice to me. He's always talking to other girls.

The other girl gets all the breaks at the home and at school. She acts like she doesn't even know she's a Welfare Kid. She calls the people Mom and Dad. Ug. I'm not bad, and I want friends, but I'm hated.

Should I ask for a new home, or just stick it out until I can leave? I'm so unhappy I could die. — MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE:

A new home wouldn't help, so long as you moved there with the attitude, "I'm just a crummy, hated Welfare Kid."

People aren't very perceptive, honey. They see you for what you think you are, and they treat you the way you ask to be treated. If you dislike yourself, they'll figure you aren't worth liking. If you feel inferior, they'll see only the outward signs, and put you down for jealousy, balkiness and unfriendliness.

Instead of resenting your keepers, give them a break and let them help you find the real you. Foster parents are chosen for their kindness and understanding, so I'm sure they've tried, but they can't break down the barriers all by themselves. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother is a medicine nut. She's always dosing me with pills and bad tasting junk at the slightest sniffle. She's got a thing about regularity. Whenever she thinks I need a laxative, I get one. This bothers me because I don't need it and end up miserable. Most of the time!

Could you please tell her that nothing cures a cold and regularity differs with different people? — ALWAYS A-RUNNIN'

DEAR A.A.:

Your medicine-happy mother needs telling all right, but your doctor is the one to do it. I'm sure she consults him often. Call him up and ask him to set her straight. — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Any interested resident of the Tiburon Peninsula is welcomed to membership, Mrs. Witzel says.

Community activities in which Jane is currently taking part include volunteer work for Marin General Hospital, and membership in the Women's Auxiliary of San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere. The couple have three sons, Kenneth, 21, a senior at the University of San Francisco, Tom, 19, a sophomore at the University of California, and Jim, 14, a freshman at Redwood High School.

The Witzels have lived in Marin County since 1947, with the exception of the years 1960-1964, when they were residents of Westport, Conn.

Noodle Is An Old Word For A Fool

There's an old word for a simpleton or a fool that sounds like a dish of pasta. If someone calls you a noodle he isn't praising your I.Q. Noodle stories are somewhat like the old Irish Bulls.

There is the case of the noodle who was looking for a place to prepare a tomb for himself. When a friend indicated what he thought to be a suitable but drafty spot, the man said, . . "Very good but isn't it a bit unhealthy?"

How many noodles can you dream up? Every language has them. The Chinese tell of the noodle who was a confirmed drunkard who dreamt that he had been presented with a cup of excellent wine, and set it by the fire to warm. Just as he was about to drink off the delicious draught he awoke. "Fool that I am," he cried. "Why was I not content to drink it cold."

Pamela Waterman of Elgin, Ill., became the bride of Dan Webster of Hayward in a 4 o'clock ceremony at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross on Saturday.

Pamela's parents are Mr. and Mrs. William Waterman of Elgin, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Brock Webster of San Anselmo.

She chose a fitted Empire gown of white velvet trimmed with silk braid and seed pearls. The veil ended in a chapel train. Holly Moulton of San Jose as maid of honor wore a deep pink crepe gown trimmed with silver lace. The other attendants, Mrs. Frank Philipps of Livermore and Mrs. Jeffrey Valadez of San Rafael, wore similar dresses in pale pink. Mrs. Valadez is the sister of the bridegroom.

Daryl Sattui of San Jose was best man, and Richard Jones of Hayward and Frank Philipps were the ushers.

A reception was given at the Meadow Club, and the couple will honeymoon at Sun Valley, Ida. They will live in San Jose.

Pamela was graduated from high school in Elgin and is a senior at San Jose State College.

Dan was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and is employed with Mason-McDuffie investment company in Hayward. Previously he served with the Marine Corps for three years.

Still Tops

In this day of the zipper and the pressure snap, the safety pin still is an indispensable fastener after almost 4,000 years.

Specimens of crude safety pins fashioned by the Romans in 2,000 B.C., have been unearthed says the National Safety Council.

Working Woman Still Homemaker

"Women who work, or those who think about getting back to a job in the future when the children are all in school, should bear in mind that they have still another responsibility — the home," according to Charlotte Montgomery of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Speaking before a seminar for business and professional women, Mrs. Montgomery notes, "The working woman, whether she is an unmarried girl or a mother of several children, has to keep those wheels turning. The home is her orientation and her responsibility.

"Women who get jobs, having not worked, are really astonished at how they don't rid themselves of any of the things that are part of being a homemaker.

"In your homemaking," states Mr. Montgomery, "use all the shortcuts if they appeal to you. Don't feel guilty about using frozen foods. Buy materials that are drip dry and wash and wear. Have a home freezer, and when you feel like cooking, cook, and put things in it. You will pay a little more but, if you like, send out your laundry and order your groceries by telephone.

"If you're going to be both a homemaker and a breadwinner, or if you want to streamline your life for other purposes, decide which womanly things mean the most to you. Decide where you're going to give and where you're not going to give, and then do something about it."

Buying Power

NEW YORK (UPI)—The number one national heroine, says Signature, Diner's Club magazine, is Sally the secretary.

There are three million Sallys, 11 per cent of all working women. Their purchasing power among women is surpassed only by the housewives of America, according to Signature. Next to sailors on shore leave, it was reported, nobody spends money so easily or fast.

Reports will be made by the luncheon chairmen, Mesdames Tom Perry, Donald MacRae, Arthur Barnes, and Gustafson; decorations chairmen, Mesdames Arthur Johnston and Kenneth Dunn; and purchasing chairman Mrs. John Clahan.

"New members will be welcome at this meeting," said Mrs. Gustafson. "We number about 25 now, and as the group is enlarged we will go ahead with plans for projecting our 'tea room' idea, heading for daily operation."

Tamalpais Guild President Enjoys Flying With Family

"Sunny Hills is a very personal effort for me. I feel involved in the programs being developed for the children," explained Mrs. Bruce H. Collins of Mill Valley, 1968 president of the Tamalpais Guild of Sunny Hills.

A native San Franciscan, Adele Collins, was graduated from San Francisco State College with a degree in personnel administration.

MRS. BRUCE COLLINS

Planning a busy year for the Tamalpais Guild, Adele listed some projects for the year. "Most of the year we all sew on togs for tots for our booth at the Grape Festival. Then we have a fund-raising dinner at the Outdoor Art Club in late spring and a champagne party in the fall."

Adele has many things keeping her busy. As the mother of four children, Cynthia, 8; Ross, 6; Drew, 5; and Neil, 2, she has many child-oriented activities.

In addition to being president of the board of Tamalpais and Maringate Nursery Schools she is also a member of the Marin Motion Picture and Television Council and finds time to work on school bond elections, working as area chairman for the middle school bond election.

Other interests include tennis and sewing most of her wardrobe. The Collins family enjoys flying together whenever possible with Bruce Collins as pilot. He is a civil engineer with Kennedy Consulting Engineers. The Collinses have lived in Marin nine years.

Other officers are Mesdames Benjamin Yates, vice president; Gene Dale, recording secretary; August Roth, corresponding secretary; and Charles Cutting, treasurer.

ARTHUR W. SMITH
Quarter century on council

San Anselmo Mayor Files To Run Again

Arthur W. Smith, who with 25 years on the San Anselmo City Council is the dean of Marin councilmen, today filed completed nomination papers for re-election.

Smith is the present mayor — the 12th year of his 25 as council member that he has served as presiding officer.

He sold his business, Art Smith's Variety Store, last October, but still resides close to the downtown at 15 Bank Street.

In announcing his decision to seek another four-year term, Smith said development of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard or Center Boulevard to Fairfax should have top priority to alleviate traffic congestion.

He called for further study of moving the central fire station, "with the hope that it could be accomplished within the next few years," and advocated broadening San Anselmo's tax base and "more impetus to create a better climate for our business men" in the downtown district.

"I am, and always have been, a fulltime councilman," he stressed.

The other San Anselmo councilman whose term expires April 9, John M. Reichmuth, has indicated he will not run again.

Job Corps Camp Closings Bring Mixed Reaction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The announced closing of 16 anti-poverty Job Corps centers across the nation has brought mixed reaction from a number of congressmen whose districts are involved.

Rep. Harold T. Johnson, D-Calif., was "shocked and concerned" about the closing of the conservation camp in Trinity County, Calif., and he sent a telegram to Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, asking his personal reconsideration.

But Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., said he "can't squawk a bit" about the closing of a similar center in Red Willow County, Neb.

OEO announced that 16 of its 124 Job Corps centers for young men would be closed by mid-year to make more money available for job programs aimed at older, so-called hard-core, unemployed men and for emergency medical programs for the needy.

Tires Stolen

John Farr of Triple S Auto Service Center at 110 Jacoby Street, San Rafael reported to police yesterday the theft of 12 recap tires valued at $156 from outside the center.

Higher Rate For Garbage Being Sought

An increase in garbage collection rates and an extension of the terms of the franchise was asked last night of the Novato Sanitary District board by Novato Disposal Service, Charles Joseph, engineer-manager of the district reported today.

If approved the price per 35-gallonn garbage can in the residential district would go from $1.70 per month to $2 per month for a weekly collection, Joseph said.

The disposal company also wanted its franchise extended for 10 years with an option to renew it for another 10 years, Joseph said. It expires in 1973, according to Joseph.

The board referred the matter to Joseph for study and report at a future meeting.

The Novato Santiary District board also:

REPORT — Received a report from their consulting engineers, Jenks and Adamson of Palo Alto, on the differences between the district's master plan prepared by Jenks and the county plan prepared by Brown and Caldwell. The report was accepted for study with no action taken on it, Joseph said.

SALARY —Increased by five per cent the salaries of the secretary-clerk and the operations superintendent on recommendation of the salary committee.

EXTENSIONS—Extended until Nov. 23 the expiration date for work on San Marin Unit 8. The board also accepted the main extensions to Marin Highlands Units 2-A and 3 of 66 lots and the Peterman main extension of three lots off Center Road at Fredson Court.

BAHIA — Accepted a deed of easement for a parcel on the Bahia treatment plant and approved an agreement whereby the district maintain the plant and pump stations.

Annexations — Approved the annexation of one parcel of land South of Vineyard Road, west of Paladini Court.

MEETINGS — Set Feb. 12 and 19 for meeting next month.

Bids Are Opened For Dixie School Bond Purchasing

Bank of California submitted a low bid today for the purchase of $360,000 in Dixie School Distric bonds, offering an interest rate of 4.6607 per cent.

Five bids were opened by the Marin County supervisors and referred to Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell for review and recommendation.

The second lowest bid came from Bank of America, which offered an interest rate of 4.7904 per cent. Others ranged to a high of 4.999 per cent.

The Dixie School District will turn the $360,000 over to the state to pay back past debts and continue to qualify for state loans.

Deputies Probe Beating Story

Roy Anthony DeMarta of 359 Devon Drive, San Rafael, complained to sheriff's deputies Thursday that he was beaten up by three young men who followed his car through San Anselmo and San Rafael that night.

The obscenity-shouting young men trapped his car at Willow Street and Merrydale Road, just outside San Rafael, and one of them pulled him from the car and hit him on the head and in the stomach, DeMarta said.

He asked deputies to give the youths "a good talking to," if located, but declined to sign a formal complaint against his attackers, officers said.

The sheriff's office reported the beating today.

Wind, Rain Cause Minor Auto Crashes

Continued wind and rain yesterday figured in several minor traffic accidents around Marin, the California Highway Patrol reported.

A Mill Valley youth suffered a cut forehead at 6:45 a.m. when the car in which he was riding, driven by David Thomas Barca, 20, of 322 Robin Road, Mill Valley, collided with one driven by Percy C. Banks, 50, of San Francisco on northbound Highway 101, south of the Greenbrae overpass, according to patrolmen.

Barcas' passenger, Fred Crabasa, 18, of the same address, was treated at Marin General Hospital.

A southbound car driven by Jeffrey P. Burnell, 28, of 80 Crescent Drive, San Rafael, spun around on Puerto Suello Hill and hit the center divider rail at 7:30 p.m., according to the patrol.

Burnell complained of a pain in his right leg but told patrolmen he would see his own doctor.

On the Golden Gate Bridge, north of the toll plaza at 10 p.m. a northbound car driven by James F. Derr, 19, of 33 Pico Court, San Rafael collided head-on with a southbound vehicle driven by Daniel J. Moriarty, 36, of San Francisco, patrolmen reported.

Both drivers told the patrol they would see their own doctors for minor injuries.

Wickham Backer Takes Out Mill Valley Council Papers

Nomination papers for the Mill Valley City Council election April 9 were taken out yesterday for Councilman George Wickham, but Wickham has not yet announced whether he will run for re-election.

Papers were taken out by James E. Rutledge of 91 Longfellow Road, who said he hoped the step would persuade Wickham to run.

Wickham was out of the state on business today and could not be reached for comment.

Papers were taken out Friday for attorney Robert H. Andresen, but he is also reportedly undecided about running.

Wickham, of 190 Manor Drive, is a construction engineer with Oglesby, Jacobs and Wickham of San Rafael and Jacobs Associates of San Francisco. He was elected to the council in 1964 and was vice mayor in 1966.

Three council seats will be open this year as the terms of Wickham, mayor Albert E. White and Michael Wornum expire. Wornum is running for the board of supervisors, while White has not indicated if he will seek re-election.

State Delivers Check To Help Buy Novato Park

A check for $124,750 arrived this morning from the state to pay for the purchase of 64 acres of land for Stafford Lake County Park, County Recreation Director Pierre W. Joske announced.

The money is from the 1964 Park Bond Act. The land, owned by Mr. and Mrs. George Grossi of Novato, was sold for $137,500, about $6,000 below appraisal price. It adjoins the west side of Lake Stafford in Novato.

The county put up $12,750 to supplement the $124,750 from the state.

The purchase agreement with the Grossis also contains an option for the county to acquire another 65 adjacent acres with federal funds if the county's application under the open space program is granted within the next four years, Joske said.

"This is the first significant people's park acquisition in Marin County," said Joske.

Not date for his execution has been set.

Sergeant's Body Found In Office At Air Base

The body of a chief master sergeant was found hanging in his office at Hamilton Air Force Base last night, security police reported.

He was identified as James J. Volkmar, 45, of 1306 Leafwood Drive, Apt. 4, Novato, non-commissioned officer in charge of the 78th Fighter Wing operation office.

Security police said Volkmar was found by an airman sent to clean Volkmar's office at 9:40 p.m. He was hanging through a trap door from a rope attached to an attic rafter, police said.

Police would not say whether a note had been found or a motive determined.

Volkmar had been in the Air Force 23 years.

The Office of Special Investigation at Hamilton has begun a probe. Volkmar's body was taken to Travis Air Force Base for autopsy.

Farm Workers Win Court Test

SALINAS (AP) — Nine farm workers have won guaranteed jobs with a probable minimum of $4,500 a year, it was reported today.

The arrangement is part of an out of court settlement that followed a ruling by Superior Judge Gordon L. Campbell that an employer who fires a worker for union activity must not only rehire him but may also be required to pay punitive damages.

The workers' case was handled by California Rural Legal Assistance, a legal aid group funded as part of the federal government's war on poverty.

Gov. Ronald Reagan had opposed the group's handling of the matter as it involved union activities, said Paul Zimmer, deputy director of the California Office of Economic Opportunity.

Sausalitan Gets Papers For Council

Robert Charles Martin Sr., of 25 Crescent Avenue became the first candidate in the April 9 Sausalito city council election when he took out nomination papers yesterday.

Martin, co-owner of Patty's Restaurant at 721 Bridgeway, moved to Sausalito two years ago from the East Bay where he was in the restaurant and bar business for 21 years. Born in Iowa, he came to California in 1945 and lived in Oakland and Hayward until moving to Sausalito.

Martin is 51, married and the father of two children, a son in the Army military police at Fort Campbell, Ky., and a married daughter in San Francisco.

He has no prior experience in city government. In civic affairs, he is a member of the Lions Club and has been a Cub Scout leader, a Little League sponsor and a worker in cerebral palsy fund campaigns.

Three city council seats will be open this year as the terms of Mayor Mel Wax and Councilmen Eleanor O'Hara Chapin and Alexander R. Imlay expire. None of the three has indicated whether he will run for re-election.

The first permanent settlement in the United States was St. Augustine, Fla., settled by the Spaniards in 1565.

RAIN FILLS A STREET

The parking spot at Laurel Avenue and Locust, Kentfield, was perfect — until the sky opened and the rain fell. At 10:30 a.m. (left) the flood water had reached axle height but the driver of the convertible Volkswagen was not too concerned. A 1 p.m. (right) the flood had almost covered the car and College of Marin students Clifford Johnsen and Herm Kamai have to wade chest and waist deep to rescue all they can.

Fairfax General Plan Voted

A weary Fairfax City Council unanimously adopted a general plan for the city and its surrounding area early today with several reservations about the downtown plan.

Their decision climaxed almst a year of open meetings and public hearings on the plan prepared by the Marin County Planning Department.

LONG SESSION

Councilmen voted after a two-hour-and-45-minute public hearing, which brought forth petitions for and against the plan, and more than two hours of council deliberation.

There was a lively audience of about 60 persons when the council session opened at 8 p.m., but there were only six remaining when it was adjourned at 1:30 a.m.

The plan calls for Farifax — with a population of 5,800 in the 1960 census — to maintain its village character with an ultimate population of 15,000 and a limited commercial area in the downtown sector.

MERCHANTS' PLEA

The council received a petition signed by 68 merchants who opposed the plan. They said they aren't "opposed to progress, but these plans are unrealistic."

The Citizens Action Committee of the Irate Taxpayers of Marin, noting its previous petition with more than 300 opposing the plan, urged the council to "adopt a more moderate plan" and make "best use of commercial land without major changes."

There also were a series of petitions, signed by more than 200 persons urging adoption of the general plan agreeing with the philosophy of limiting business development to the present downtown area.

PLAN'S CRITICS

Councilman Robert R. Souza said the downtown plan was too restrictive and would be "extremely difficult to implement."

Councilman Frank J. Egger Jr. said he had reservations about the proposal to make Sir Francis Drake a four-lane boulevard.

After council reservations about the downtown plan were made, Egger suggested that the council adjourn to consider it separately Monday, Feb. 5 but the suggestion was voted down 3-2.

Mayor George A. Pagni, Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr. and Councilman Adelaide Wilson dissented.

In approving the plan, councilmen called for further study of:

ROAD FOR SHOPS

The feasibility of having an access road to serve shops along the north side of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, about 10 shops and the post office, which was part of the expressway proposal.

The possibility of extending the downtown commercial area to the area between Azalea Avenue and Olema Road, the area of the Buon Gusto property, where a shopping center was proposed last year.

The possibility of eliminating commercial development between Mono and Napa avenues from Dominga Avenue to Bolinas Road, and transferring that commercial acreage allotment to the west downtown area. Mrs. Wilson dissented on this item.

Council action came after Albert Solnit, chief of advance planning for Marin County, advised that amendments could be made to the plan and delay

Mayor George A. Pagni asked reconsideration of the Buon Gusto property to include it in the downtown commercial area because it could produce funds to implement the plan.

The plan calls the proposed east-west freeway, Highway 17, to West Marin to by-pass the center of the city. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen assured residents the highway "will never threaten the integrity of the city of Fairfax."

During the hearing there were more than a dozen speakers, pro and con, and frequent applause for their viewpoints.

TOTAL WELFARE FAILS

Hippies' Helper Tells Frustrations

By DON BRANNING

When last summer's deluge of youngsters ended in San Francisco Haight-Ashbury, the district's weary "oldtimers" held a public funeral for the hippie and put up a sign across the street: "The Birth of The Free American."

"We gave and gave and we lost ourselves in the giving," said one of the oldtimers, Al Rinker, director of the Haight-Ashbury Switchboard. "To regain ourselves, we had to get free of the hippie image."

Rinker, an ex-Marine sergeant, who said he once spent two years alone in the mountains looking for his own identity, spoke of hippie life as a movement to regain humanness in a de-humanized culture, in a talk he gave last night to members of the Jewish Community Center in Santa Venetia.

He is working on a master's degree in psychology, and is a consultant to Mendocino State Hospital, where the youngsters go to dry out from methadrine binges, He has two young sons who are attending the first hippie grammar school, for children of the young people who live in permanently in the Haight-Ashbury. The Switchboard he founded and directs was a clearing house to provide food and shelter for thousands of youngsters who poured into the district last summer.

"We were duped by the press into believing our own image," he said. "We were caught in our own love and giving image."

We found that total welfare was not the answer. They came every night, looking for a place to stay. You would think that after two or three weeks, they would find their own crash pad. But they didn't.

"We went down to the park every day and ladeled out meals What we should have done was give out uncooked food to those who had a place to stay. Then they could have invited the others to meals.

"The continual giving just crippled them.

"At the end of the summer, we realized that we had been caught in our own hippie image. I had worn beads myself and I realized I really didn't want to wear the things. So we held a public funeral and buried the hippie. The press ate it up. After all, they had created the hippie. It was their son we were burying."

BLEAK PLACE

Now, said Rinker, it is winter in the Haight-Asubury and the place looks pretty bleak. "It's like the bottom of a V-shaped sieve. People with the worst drug problems collect there." Bue he is optimistic, he said, because he regards the whole hippie phenomenon among young people as an opportunity for "self initated movementt regain our humanness."

That's what it's all about, he said. Vast, computorized college campuses, people caught up in their success drives, working their way up in corporations, all "a historical dehumanization of our culture" to which the hippie movement is a reaction, he said.

STILL A HAVEN

Last summer's well publicized "love-in, be-in" is over, but runaway youngsters, some as young as 14 and 15 years old, still make their way to the district. "It provides them with a necessary period of total irresponsibility, to decide what they want to do, what direction they want to take."

The task of those who remain in the Haight-Ashbury, he said, is to help the youngsters become "self initiating individuals, who will find a future of creative action."

Bagley Seeks Reforms For Bail Procedure

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to reform California's bail procedures was introduced today by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The bill provides for automatic review of release if a defendant has not been released from jail within two days, or else the judge would be required to state his reasons in writing for refusing to release a defendant.

Bagley said the bill would eliminate reliance on money bail as a primary method of release.

A system of releasing defendants on their own recognizance has been in limited use in California for several years, Bagley noted, but has been used extensively in New York "with great success and without any danger to society."

Bagley, chairman of the Assembly Judiciary Committee, said his bill was an "important part" of his soon to be introduced "urban package, which will be aimed at helping the urban poor help themselves."

Bagley said the fault of the present money bail system "is that it detains almost one half of all those arrested solely on the basis that they cannot raise money for bail. The American concept of equal justice cannot tolerate the traditional bail system which discriminates against the poor," said Bagley.

BOY ADMITS HE CAUSED SEVERE BURNS

The 12-year-old Novato boy who reported to police that he had been the victim of someone throwing a burning paper cup of gasoline on his leg on Dec. 30, yesterday was cited to juvenile authorities by Novato police for filing a false police report.

When originally reported to police, some unseen assailant had thrown the cup of burning gasoline which hit the boy on the leg, inflicting severe burns.

Police yesterday said that the boy admitted finding the container of gasoline beside some construction equipment at Anderson Motors Inc. at Grant Avenue and First Street, Novato. He ignited it with a cigarette lighter and then kicked it, spilling the gasoline on his leg, police reported.

The fire was put out in the rest room of Anderson Motors, police reported.

The boy's two companions were reprimanded and released to their parents.

Eagle-Stuffer Drive Begun By Attorney

Jerrold M. Ladar of Mill Valley, assistant U.S. district attorney who prosecuted Point Reyes Station rancher Leroy Martinelli for shooting eagles, has started a fund to stuff two of the birds.

After a jury deadlocked in Martinelli's trial, and Federal Judge William T. Sweigert in a re-trial held that the rancher was justified in shooting two eagles that were killing his lambs, the Louise A. Boyd Natural Science Museum in San Rafael asked for one of the eagles to display.

Eventually it got another bald eagle, reportedly bigger than either of the birds Martinelli killed. But the museum lacks the $100 needed to mount the specimen.

Ladar has moved to correct that deficiency. Yesterday he sent $10 to the museum toward an eagle-stuffing fund, and wrote the Independent-Journal:

"I have procured the agreement of an excellent taxidermist to stuff and mount two eagles for $100 for the museum. . . . I will undertake to obtain the most recent Martinelli hunting prize for the museum by requesting the eagle carcass from the Department of the Interior," which granted Martinelli a permit to shoot the bird.

Ladar proposed that nine others join him in contributing $10 each to the fund.

"Since the Independent-Journal has shown a continuing interest in the Martinelli eagle killings, and since Martinelli seems to show a continuing interest in killing them, perhaps both of you would be willing to show some interest in allowing the children of Marin who so frequently crowd the corridors of the science museum to view them in a presentable condition," he wrote.

(The Independent-Journal is sending its check for $10 to the museum.)

Poverty War Rebuttal Slated

The San Geronimo Valley Association expressed criticism last night over replies by the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council to questions about the anti-poverty program.

The association will prepare formal rebuttal to statements by Victor H. Cary, EOC executive director, for presentation Feb. 18 at a hearing by the board of supervisors over eliminating the valley as an anti-poverty target area.

Mrs. Winifred Frederick, an association member, said the group objected that it received a balance sheet of EOC expenditures when it had asked for a description of the EOC budget in "layman's terms." The association had submitted 24 questions on EOC operations to Cary.

Let' Pay Brief Visit To Class In Civics

Many years ago, our public schools had a course called Civics. The same material, presumably, is now included in the American Government course.

Today's students of American Government, like those who studied Civics in the long ago, perhaps wonder sometimes at the actions of public officials. So today, let us briefly convene a Civics class in this column.

THE CLASS will now come to order, please.

First question: When a city councilman resigns during his term of office, how is his successor chosen?

You have the answer, Johnny? The remaining members of the council appoint someone to fill out the term. That is right.

Now, Johnny, how should they select the appointee?

You say that when a councilman plans to resign, he should let the others know and they should decide on someone so the selection can be announced simultaneously with the resignation.

No, Johnny, that is not the correct answer. You see, this is an elective position. The council is permitted to appoint in event of a resignation to avoid the cost of a special election, but the appointment should follow the elective process as closely as possible. The council should announce the resignation and call for nominations and applications from the citizenry, and all these should be considered before anyone is appointed.

NOW, NEXT QUESTION: What is the obligation of the citizenry in connection with this appointment?

We see four hands on this — Fred, Roy, Nadine, and Tom. You all have the same answer?

Citizens have an obligation to put forward names — their own or those of persons they would like as councilmen and who are willing to serve. If no one is put forward, the citizens have no business complaining about who is appointed. You are all quite correct.

NEXT QUESTION: Sometimes the voters authorize a board or council to put the citizenry into debt for a project. This is known as a bond issue. When this happens, must the board or council use the money as it has told the voters it will? Joe and Bill, put your heads together for a joint answer to this one.

Not necessarily, you say? The board may find the money can be used better by changing the plan, you say.

This may be so, but it is a very bad thing to be given money for one thing and use it for something else. If we gave you money to buy someone a coat and you used it to buy him a hat, we would not like that. If you had promised to buy the coat and did not, this could be called obtaining money under false pretenses.

NOW, HERE IS a question for you, Larry: When members of a council or board choose its presiding officer — be he called mayor, president, chairman or whatever — do they thereby empower him to arrange things with the manager or superintendent without prior consent from the rest of the board?

You think so? Sorry, Larry, but you must not have read your Civics text. It is all explained there. If the people want the mayor — or president, or whatever — to have additional power, they elect him separately. If he is elected just as a board member, and chosen by the board to preside, he is not clothed with any additional power and has no authority to act independently of the board as a whole.

There is a chapter in your book about weak mayor vs. strong mayor government. When the board or council chooses its own presiding officer, we have a weak mayor system. That is all in the book.

There is the bell! Our time has run out. Class dismissed.

Owl Takes Over House

Ten years ago a Marin neighbor built a neat, little house and nailed it high in the top of his oak tree. It was intended for the squirrels. But the squirrels spurned his handicraft, since, as he now knows, no self-respecting squirrel will occupy anything but the nest it makes for itself.

For 10 years the lonely, little treetop house stood empty. Just recently, however, it acquired a tenant—a little, gray screech owl. This eight-inch owl has ear tufts and is gray with wide dark brown or black stripes on its breast.

It sits in its doorway with its head on its chest and its eyes closed all day and until late at night. Our friend tells us these owls do not usually begin to hunt until midnight.

This owl eats mice, insects, and toads and frogs. Its main enemies are large owls and tree surgeons.

A friendly tenant for an empty house!

HOW SINCERE ARE YOU?

Two centuries ago Lawrence Sterne wrote: "Sincerity — a deep, genuine, heartfelt sincerity — is a trait of true and noble manhood."

It may help you to become more and more sincere if you reflect on the origin and meaning of the word.

It is derived from two Latin terms "sine" (without) and "cera" (wax). Originally it was used in reference to pure honey from which every trace of beeswax had been completely eliminated.

In a later and wider meaning, "sincere" was applied to persons. It indicated that one was true, genuine, straightforward, without pretense.

The dictionary defines a sincere individual as "honest in intention, action or profession; acting or speaking the truth, especially as to one's own feelings, motives or purpose . . . free from any element of hypocrisy or deceit . . . pure or unadulterated."

Cultivate sincerity of mind, heart and soul and you are bound to fullfill more effectively the mission in life that God has assigned to you personally.

"Serve Him in sincerity and in faithfulness."

President 'Made His Bed'

(Reprinted from Akron Beacon-Journal)

The President's belated concern over rising prices, high interest rates and "a continuing erosion of the American dollar" is likewise the apprehension of his fellow countrymen.

Years of unbalanced budgets, huge deficits and dom of government's "money resulting inflation place the wismanagers" under sharp questioning.

Mr. Johnson did not heed the warning given in 1965 and 1966 that the dollar was in trouble. He was critical of the Federal Reserve Board for acting responsibly in curbing the money supply. The President belongs to the "easy money" cult, yet interest rates are higher now than at any time since the Civil War.

U. S. News & World Report advises that until late in 1967, "high U. S. officials pooh-poohed any possible danger to the dollar. On Jan. 1 they sounded a fire alarm." . . .

In a masterpiece of understatement, the President warns that "there are some clouds on the horizon."

Indeed there are. And they will not be dispersed until Mr. Johnson discovers that all problems cannot be resolved by the mere spending of more and more money.

The national restlessness, which Mr. Johnson likens to the stirring and troubled waters when a great ship cuts through the sea, is not so easily explained by a figure of speech.

The State of the Union is not good, and the people know it.

Inflexible Policy Too Expensive

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The New York Times editorial that you reprinted on Jan. 25 echoes my November letter to you urging a businessman's approach to Vietnam. As the Times says, the administration must choose "the lesser of evils, seeking to hold costs and risks to a minimum."

The Johnson administration seems committed to an inflexible diplomacy toward Asian communism, despite the risks of World War III and the mounting cost in blood and treasure. Why is that preferable to the flexible U.S.-diplomacy which has been proving successful in Europe? What do we gain for ourselves or posterity ty twisting the Chinese dragon's tail? Is spying on North Korea with an "intelligence ship" worth the risk? Does our insistence on an anti-Communist government in South Vietnam — a government that won less than a majority in a rigged election — make us any more secure or prosperous? Is propping up the Thieu-Ky regime, rather than accepting a negotiated coalition, worth even one life?

Iusay the costs and risks of such "foreign entanglements" (to use George Washington's term) are too high. Secretary Rusk's policy is not resistance to agression; it is meddling. If we want people to emulate our way of life, we will not convince them with bombs. Senator McCarthy has proposed the solution: a clear U.S. offer to negotiate with all parties concerned, on an equal basis, whether or not we like their political complexion.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In regard to your article, "Too Many Ambulances in Marin County:"

I think you should disclose the letter United Ambulance sent to (County Administrator (Alan) Bruce stating they are hurting financially since Doctors Ambulance came into service.

In this letter Administrator Bruce wants the police work on bid to one company. United has demonstrated in the past it cannot handle the county property. From past record there have been numerous delays, such as the boy who lay 30 minutes under a truck near Greenbrae in July or August.

Since Doctors came into the county, there have been no delays. No one should rely on one company to handle the whole county. It's too big and growing rapidly. . . .

Service Stations Welcome Union

Editor, Independent-Journal:

As you may have heard, the Teamsters Union has formed a union for service station dealers.

For years the oil companies have been driving gas station owners into the poorhouse. No industry forces its people to work longer hours at lower wages and with fewer fringe benefits and less job security.

It is time for a change. We should sit down and talk to these people, find out what they can do for us.

We in Marin County have a dealers association but it can never do anything, as far as getting us bigger margins on our gas or getting leases rewritten.

I know the unions have their faults, but it sure beats getting pushed around by the oil companies.

Who in the hell are they to tell us when to open or when to close, what to sell gas for, put up money to join their giveaways? Jackpots cost the dealers nearly a penny a ticket.

The oil companies are showing the highest earnings in history.

After five years or 10 years the oil company can walk in and kick the dealer out in the street. . .

Let the college boys in the company offices try working for a change; let them try running a station, they tell us how to do it. . .

INSIDE WASHINGTON

White House Keeps Eyes On Reagan

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Of all the Vietnam statements by potential Republican presidential candidates, those of California's Gov. Ronald Reagan are being examined closely at the White House.

Each time Reagan mentions Veitnam the full text of his speech is obtained by administration represenatives and rushed to Washington along with a detailed report on the reaction of his audience.

The reason behind this political surveillance is that President Johnson and his chief foreign policy advisers are convinced Reagan is the only Republican capable of stirring up the American public to demand adoption of an "all-out win policy" in Veitnam.

THE BELIEF at the White House is also growing that Reagan, slated to be California's GOP favorite-son candidate, will be in the thick of his party's presidential nomination battle by next August.

Several of the president's key political advisers are privately forecasting that the coming presidential primaries will be close enough to seriously damage the candidacy of former Vice President Nixon, in addition to eliminating Michigan's Governor Romney from the running.

Should this double-knockout occur, they say, the actual convention showdown will be between Reagan and New York's Governor Rockefeller — with the outcome a toss-up.

MOST DISTURBING politically to President Johnson and his advisers is the simple, hard-hitting approach that Reagan takes on Vietnam, as follows:

"We have the power to wind it up fast in Vietnam, and I think we should use it. The war must be fought to victory, meaning first, an end to North Vietnam's aggression, and second, an honorable and safe peace for our South Vietnam neighbors.

"We have been patient long enough and our patience wears thin. This is the way to peace and it is the way in keeping with our basic principles. Appeasement does not give you a choice between peace and war, only between fight or surrender."

The reaction reports sent to the White House show that when Reagan makes this Vietnam statement he usually receives a standing ovation from his audience.

POLITICAL strategists say Reagan is waiting to see how well Nixon does in the primaries before making any major national political move.

Most of the delegates now backing the former vice president or leaning that way, they claim, would rush to Reagan if Nixon faltered and the California governor picked up the banner.

Says one influential Reagan aide: "Should the primaries turn out to be a dead-end for Nixon, Reagan will get his support."

And Reagan with Nixon's help, the aide believes, could conduct a "blitz campaign" at the national convention that would more than match Rockefeller's expected effort.

Nuclear Pact Proves U.S., Russia Can Cooperate

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Despite the animosities aroused by the war in Vietnam, the United States and the Soviet Union have demonstrated they can deal with each other when each other has something to gain.

Latest example is the agreement to limit the spread of nuclear weapons which the two have placed before the 17-nation Geneva conference after nearly five years of trying.

It is in the interest of both since some day the war in Veitnam must end and each has a pressing need to cut back on the astronomical cost of armaments.

IN THE LATTER stages it is intersting to note that it was the United States rather than the Soviet Union that did the most footpdragging.

This was because of the necessity that the United States keep its allies closely informed on progress of the negotiations and what they entailed.

Since France is boycotting the Geneva talks and is not expected to sign the accord, the most interested western allies were Italy and West Germany, both of them non-nuclear powers. As usual, the stumbling block was the question of inspection and agreement finally was reached through compromise.

The U.S. and the Soviets had agreed that inspection could be carried out through the international Atomic Energy Agency headquarters in Vienna. West Germany, and in a lesser way, Italy, balked at this because fears of possible "leaks" through the agency could result in a thievery of industrial secrets.

THE COMPROMISE to which the Russians also agreed made EURATOM, the West European agency for development of peaceful uses of atomic power, the inspecting agency.

The agreement is not yet out of the woods because other nations also have their reservations, especially fearing that the great powers are seeking an atomic monopoly.

However, the fact that the U.S. and Soviet Union could agree between themselves is a hopeful sign.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

REV. BILLY GRAHAM tells about a man who was reading a book about reincarnation, and asked his wife, "Does this book mean that if I die I'm liable to come back to this world in another form — for instance, a WORM?" The wife replied firmly, "Sweetheart, you are never the same twice."

SHORTLY AFTER Ben Novack opened his posh Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach, he was kept waiting five minutes one night for an elevator. Angrily he asked the dispatcher, "Where are all the elevators, anyhow?" The dispatcher answered haughtily,

"Where can elevators go? Either UP or DOWN." "There's a third direction," Novack reminded him: "OUT — you're fired."

Gun Comes Apart – And Out Pop Bits Of Personal History

Notato fire commissioner Joseph Silveira took a double barreled shotgun into Jim's Gun Shop in Novato to have it repaired. It would open when fired.

That set off as strange a set of circumstances and history tracing as we have heard in many years.

Jim Marsico Jr., owner of the gun shop, removed the back plate from the stock of the gun. Inside he found two small pieces of paper tightly rolled up and stuck into a hole in the stock.

They were hunting licenses issued to Novato city councilman M. E. Babe Silva for the years 1922-23 and 1923-24, when he was a boy of 15 and 16 years.

WORDS OF instruction and caution were printed on the back of the two licenses. Here are some:

"Look before you shoot! Be sure it's a legal deer; if you can't see his horns, she hasn't any; or it may be your pal."

"Respect the property of the farmer — you must retain his friendship."

"Be careful with your camp fire, cigar and cigarette."

"Leave a clean camp and a clean record."

"Meet your warden in a spirit of friendship. He is working for you."

"Be a true sportsman. There is more honor in giving the game a square deal than in getting the limit."

Jim notified Babe Silva that he had the two licenses.

BABE SAID HE acquired the gun when his father, Frank J. Silva, bought a farm in the San Joaquin Valley near the town of Newman in 1921. He found the gun in the pump house on the ranch. He tried to use it duck hunting, but the first time he fired it, it popped open, so he had the safety repaired.

The gun is a Parker gun, at least 100 years old, Babe said.

Silva chuckled over how foolish it was to put the licenses in the gun stock. He had to unscrew the back plate to insert them.

"Think what would have happened if the game warden had wanted to see my license! I would have had to unscrew the back plate of the gun to show it to him," Babe recalled with a laugh.

LATER HE SHOWED the old licenses to Bill Rudolph, who used to manage the Novato Cheese Factory many years ago.

"As soon as he saw them, he recognized the handwriting," Babe said.

They were issued to Babe by Rudolph's father, Judge Herman Rudolph.

If the gun hadn't popped open for Silveira — just as it did for Frank Silva many years ago — the links with the past might never have come to light.

High Schools' Joint Paper Faces Financial Problems

Students at San Rafael and Terra Linda high schools have voted to cut their subsidies to the High Times, a countywide biweekly high school newspaper.

At San Rafael, the Student Body Association Congress voted 11-10 last week not to support the paper for the spring semester, which started yesterday. A student service club, however, the Key Club, is to subsidize the next issue, and the question of support may be revived by the congress, said Steve Bacon, a junior and member of the congress.

At Terra Linda, the Student Body Association Council voted to lower its spring semester support, but has not yet set the amount it will provide.

The two schools are the only high schools in Marin County which subsidize the newspaper through student fees. District trustees take care of the subsidy at other high schools.

The total subsidy from the two schools was $50 to $60 an issue, said Brian Campbell, a junior and business manager for the paper at Terra Linda. Of this amount, about 60 per cent came from Terra Linda, he said.

San Rafael Board of Education is to consider the students' actions at its Feb. 13 meeting. If the students do not back the paper said Supt. John Plank, "the board might pick up the tab — but I wouldn't think so."

The paper originally was to be self-supporting through advertising, but when it ran a deficit its student backers got support from the district boards and student bodies.

The paper came under fire last year for its liberal political slant, but this year has been a more conventional school newspaper. It ran up to eight pages last year, but in recent weeks was four pages.

It is published by the Pacific Sun of San Rafael, and costs almost $6,000 to produce for two semesters, said Campbell.

Total circulation is almost 10,000 copies, he said, of which almost 1,500 go to Terra Linda and San Rafael high schools.

Novato police reported that he was harboring a 15-year-old runaway girl in his apartment.

BOSTON (AP)—The Kennedy family has pledged $1 million to aid Cardinal Cushing in reducing archdiocenan indebtedness before he retires in 1970.

The cardinal said Sunday that Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., made the pledge in behalf of the family. Members of the family have pooled their resources to give him $200,000 a year for five year, the cardinal said.

The cardinal also said the campaign to raise $50 million would be extended to March 24 in order to solicit $14 million to reach the goal.

The moon is between its new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1933 the radio program "The Lone Ranger" was broadcast for the first time.

Also in 1933 Adolf Hitler was named chancellor of the German Reich.

In 1948 Indian nationalist leader Mohandas Gandhi was assassinated by an extremist in New Delhi.

A thought for the day: English poet John Dryden said. "Men are but children of a larger growth."

Bad Place To Disagree; Lead For Three Notrump When Doubled

A double of three notrump usually asks partner to lead a specific suit. This is a very fine convention, except that you and your partner may not agree on which suit is specified by the double. This is a bad point to disagree about.

WEST'S TROUBLE

When today's hand was played a few months ago in a match between Ireland and Denmark, East doubled three notrump. You cannot find fault with the double since it would produced a penalty of 300 points if West had opened a low heart.

The trouble was that West imagined the double called for a spade opening lead. South won the first spade and died a thousand deaths while he tried to guess how to play the diamonds. But he guessed right, thus taking the first nine tricks. This gave him a score of plus 550 instead of minus 300 points. Not exactly chicken feed.

THE MEANING

As you might imagine, East and West began a friendly little chat on what a double of three notrump should mean when each defender has bid a different suit. Should the leader open his own suit or his partner's?

In an expert game the double should ask the leader to open his own suit. If there is no double, the leader is almost sure to open his partner's suit; and if that will defeat the contract there is no need for a double.

THE DEFENSE

The defender who is not on lead can pass if he wants his own suit led and can double if he wants his partner's suit led. Only in this way can he exercise a real choice.

In a nonexpert game, anything is better than for the double to mean one thing to the doubler and something else to his partner. Your partner will probably lead your suit whether you double or not, so you'd better make the best of it.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one notrump. You have only 15 points in high cards, one point short of the usual requirements. By way of compensation you have two tens and two nines, which easily make up for the missing point.

Americans Heed Tip To 'Get A Horse'

AUBURN, Ala. (UPI)—Americans are buying horses in greater numbers every year, creating a boom in the horse industry, an Auburn veterinarian said recently.

Dr. Worth Lanier explained that by 1976, more than 82 million perons will be riding at least once a year. He said the current horse population of 6 million has doubled since 1960.

Red Cross Youth Parley Expected To Attract 300

More than 300 young people are expected to attend the annual Bay Area Red Cross Youth Conference Saturday at College of Marin.

Fifteen discussion groups will meet during the morning and afternoon.

Theme of this year's conference is "Red Cross Cracks The Mirror." Robert D. Smith of Redwood High School is conference chairman.

Richard Bjerberg, manager of the Oakland chapter, will speak on "Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow," and Rene Martin, Golden Gate Red Cross youth member, will speak on "Rendezvous '67." Martin participated in a two-week study course in Canada last summer at the invitation of the Canadian Red Cross.

Weathermen Gather Amid Bay Storms

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The American Meteorological Society scientifically probed the waywardness of clouds, winds and rainfall today in the appropriate surroundings of wayward clouds,' winds and rainfall.

The 48th annual convention of the society moved into its second day as a powerful storm battered the San Francisco Bay Area. About 500 of the Society's 8,000 members were on hand for the meeting, which ends Thursday.

RAIN MAKING

Cloud seeding and air pollution were the primary subjects of yesterday's opening session.

A.S. Dennis and Alexander Koscielski, scientists from the school of Mines and Technology, Rapid City, S.D., said their experiments showed that dry ice particles dropped into towering clouds over arid western lands would produce rain.

The scientists said they conducted their experiments near Rapid City on "convective clouds," the towering cumulous structures called "thunderheads" which normally carry little moisture.

RESULTS FAVORABLE

"Preliminary results support the hypothesis that artificial glaciation (cooling by dry ice) of convective clouds leads to increases in rainfall."

This would be welcome news in the High Sierra, where such clouds build up daily without a drop of rain falling. Some work in the Southern Sierra range has been conducted by Thomas J. Henderson, Atmospherics Inc., and Merlin C. Williams and Joan C. Vyverberg of Fresno State College Foundation.

SIERRA TESTS

During the May - September summer periods of 1966 and 1967 they logged a total of 45 test cases in which random "dry" clouds were seeded with dry ice pellets or silver iodide. Actual seeding flights were conducted primarily over the San Joaquin and Kings River basins in order to preserve the Merced River drainage and areas further north from known seeding effects.

"Strong evidence appears which indicates precipitation can be initiated from non-precipitating cumulus developments in this orographic region, as well as conditions that are most conducive to successful operations," they concluded.

POLLUTION TRACED

James S. Sandberg, meteorology chief of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, San Francisco, described experiments in seeding the air with zinc sulphide to study patterns formed by air currents pollutants.

He said the chemical, chosen because of its fluorescent properties and uniform size, was released in San Francisco and samplers were located at 50 points throughout the Bay Area.

"In all tests, we have found cloud pollution travels from 30 to 50 miles downwind," Sandberg said. "With a strong inversion layer, we recorded strong dossage at Coyote, 50 miles south."

Water District Annexation Due Study By LAFC

A request for annexation of 21 acres in Lucas Valley to the Marin Municipal Water District will be heard by the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission Thursday night.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in the board of supervisors' chambers at Civic Center.

Melvin Swig of San Francisco, who owns the 21 acres on the south side of Lucas Valley Road opposite Mount McKinley Road, wants his property annexed to the water district.

Other requests on the agenda are:

Reedland Woods Unit 1 annexation on Reed Ranch Road to the City of Tiburon.

Reedland Woods Unit 2 annexation on Via Los Altos to the Richardson Bay Sanitary District.

Annexation of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. substation site at Ignacio, just south of Black Point cutoff, to the City of Novato.

Annexation of a lot owned by Novato at the east end of Davidson Street to the city. The city wants to use the lot to expand its service yard.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

New Spot Test Quickly Reveals Whether Case Is Mononucleosis

VAN DELLEN

A new spot test for infectious mononucleosis was developed at Mount Sinai Hospital in Chicago.

According to Doctors C. L. Lee and I Davidsohn, results can be obtained within 1 minute. In addition, the test can be done on paper thus providing a permanent record. This is good news because mono is on the rise and mild cases often escape detection.

THE CAUSTIVE microbe is elusive than that of the common cold. It is believed that mono is contagious and of viral origin. But the usual tests to prove these theories have been unsuccessful.

The disease is world-wide and although most of the victims are between 15 and 30 years of age, youngsters and the elderly are not immune.

Mono is most prevalent among the college crowd, hospital personnel, nurses, and medical students.

EPIDEMICS occur, but the degree of infectivity must be low because it seldom is transmitted to roommates, families of close contacts.

Kissing has long been considered one mode of transmission.

The earliest manifestation is tiredness. Fever, sore throat, and headache follow shortly thereafter. The majority feel as though they are coming down with a cold and more so, because the throat becomes sore and inflamed. Enlargement of the neck glands occurs and all too often those in the armpits and groin also become swollen.

BUT, UNLIKE a cold, symptoms persist. The physician finds the liver and spleen enlarged and occasionally a transient fine rash coexists. Blood tests establish the diagnosis.

Mono gets its name from an abnormal white blood cell count that makes its appearance on the fourth or fifth day of illness.

No specific remedy is available but this is not important because everyone gets well. Cortisone-type hormones have produced dramatic results in some.

THE VICTIM may be left with a residual fatigue that persists for several months. Prolonged debility forces many students to drop out for a semester or two.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

ENLARGING BOSOM

D. D. writes: Will taking vitamin E enlarge small breasts?

REPLY

No, because size and shape of the breasts depend upon heredity, nutrition, and weight. We have a leaflet on size of the breasts which may be obtained by sending stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

ULCER PERSONALITY

A reader writes: Do ulcers run in families?

REPLY

In certain families, ulcer is said to be three times more common than in the general population. But it is not the ulcer that is inherited, it is the personality of the individual and how the stomach responds to stress.

EPILEPSY AND TIME

M. P. writes: Do epileptic attacks lessen in frequency and severity as the sufferer grows older?

REPLY

Not without treatment. Today, there are so many good remedies that most victims of the disease can expect complete control or marked reduction in the number of attacks.

DRINKS AT FULL MOON

Mrs. O. writes: Why does my son go out and get drunk every month when the moon is full?

REPLY

You mean the moonshine gets him? Many persons are known to go on periodic sprees, but let's not blame the moon.

Reagan Land Deal Quizzed In Assessment Hearings

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A Los Angeles County property assessor has given reasons why 20th Century Fox Studios' price for 236 acres of Gov. Ronald Reagan's land was $1 million more than the county's "fair cash value."

David S. Culver, testifying yesterday at a hearing of the Assessment Appeals Board, said the film firm wanted access from its 2,500-acre Century Ranch to Mulholland Drive in the Malibu Mountains.

A subsidiary of 20th Century-Fox bought the property from Reagan for almost $2 million in December 1966. The land was assessed as being worth less than $1 million.

The hearing, which began last week, has centered on the Reagan-20th Century-Fox land deal after a San Marino teacher alleged that the governor got tax breaks from Assessor Phillip Watson.

The teacher, Bryan W. Stevens, said that the land sold by Reagan should have been assessed at $430,000. County Assessor Phillip E. Watson's figure was $229,000.

Malcolm McKay, Stevens' attorney, questioned Culver at yesterday's hearing. He asked the appraiser if getting access to Mulholland Drive was the reason the movie company spent so much on the land.

Culver said it "was only one of the factors." He said that the studio also wanted the land for future movie sets which couldn't be damaged by floods.

Reagan retained 54 acres of land when he sold the 236 acres. The film company has a seven-year option to buy the remaining 54 acres for $8,000 an acre.

Stevens claims the land is worth $350,000 while Watson's estimation of the land's value is $28,000. Culver said the property is hilly and development would be very expensive.

Assistants For Disasters Picked

County Fire Chief Louis Bloom, who is the county's fire coordinator in case of disaster or other emergency, has named three assistants to complete the chain of command.

His first assistant is Chief George Cavallero of Novato; second assistant, Chief George Bartram of Larkspur; and third assistant, Chief Carl Heynen of Alto.

Charles E. Masten, secretary of the Marin County Fire Chiefs Association, reported to the board of supervisors that the appointments of the three assistants have been approved by the association and the California Disaster office.

"This will complete our chain of command," said Masten.

Rallies Held For Dr. Spock

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five draft cards and statements in support of Dr. Benjamin Spock have been sent to Selective Service Director Lewis Hershey as a result of a peace rally held here at Glide Memorial Church.

Organizers of the rally said an overflow crowd of 1,000 attended last night and heard folksinger Joan Baez and Dr. Robert McAfee Brown, professor of religion at Stanford University.

The rally was one of several throughout the nation called in support of Spock and four other men indicted on charges of counseling young men to avoid the draft.

Rev. Alan S. Miller, a Presbyterian minister who is Northern California co-chairman of Clergy and Laymen Concerned with Vietnam, said five draft cards were turned in.

Herrera Arraigned On Murder Charge

Joaquin Antonio Herrera, 23, accused of the execution-style slaying of a San Rafael soldier, was arraigned in Marin Superior Court yesterday on a murder charge. His case was continued a week for entry of plea.

Herrera, of 1710 Lincoln Avenue, San Rafael, is charged with firing four bullets into Sp/5 Ronald Lee Washburn, 20, of 90 Hoag Avenue. Washburn's body was found in a vacant lot behind Herrera's apartment house.

It's a hard day's morning . . . for a night's good reading

Nothing like the newspaper business for pressure. So little time, so much to do. For a complete newspaper such as the Independent-Journal is the most complex yet lowest-priced product that can be made in one day. And that "one day," is really one morning, with time compressed and work speeded up. Every day a new "model" . . . delivered each afternoon. To do this job against the clock—

- our 18 reporters comb the county, observing, interviewing, phoning, writing, getting the facts for you.
- thousands of AP and UPI newsmen check the world for you, put its pulse on the wire.
- teletypes chatter some 120,000 words to us, from as close as Mill Valley, as far away as Capetown.
- rolls of paper, each 850 lbs., move in from Canada and the Northwest.
- electronic impulses turn into photographs on a machine—the world in black and white, caught in action.
- the managing editor watches for the big stories, gauging the importance of each, overseeing the editorial "construction" of the paper, from content to design.
- pressmen feed the giant press with ink and paper—a taste of what's to come.
- "Circulation" readies for the job of distributing the paper, via 700 newspaperboys, to two out of three homes in the county.
- experts set type for news, for ads—enough in one day to fill a good-sized book.
- the retail advertising staff, 10 strong, contacts almost every business in the county . . . planning campaigns, offering merchants professional service in copywriting, layout and merchandising.
- the city editor "feels" for the news on a hundred fronts, hands out assignments, shaping the news force to the shape of events.
- engravers work their chemical magic, placing print and picture on metal.
- the women's editor and staff of 5 molds food and fashions, social doings, meetings, school events, into a women's world.
- syndicates send in both national and world-wide features—columns, comics, cartoons.
- specialists "make up" the paper, designing every page of news and ads.
- the art department creates illustrations, layouts, designs, cartoons.
- photographers race the news throughout the county, clicking the visual happenings of Marin today.
- ink for the press arrives not in bottles but tanktrucks.
- color plates and color inks are being readied for ads, special editions, covers—all to brighten your reading eye.
- sports "jump" in the typewriters of the sports department and Willie Mays leaps up into a headline.
- "Classified" is setting up the county's daily market place, and the phone rings with "wanted" and "for sale."
- headlines are being written against deadlines—and the tight confines of space.
- vital statistics are being compiled; weather and stock reports are coming in.
- the mechancial superintendent moves the copy through a maze of linotypes, electronic typesetters and the precise hands of men who literally know type up-side down.
- the library is digging up background data for stories, filing photos, micro-filming each edition of the newspaper.
- legal ads get eagle-eyed checking for accuracy.
- orders are coming in from the nation's advertising agencies with mats for advertisements—everything from autos to ant spray.
- issues become the tissue of editorials—the reasoned interpretation of events.
- proofreaders scan every line of news and advertising trying to hold errors to a minimum against the pressure of time.
- letters to the editor are being read for possible publication.
- the dispatch office is moving ads into production—checking size, type, mats, insertion dates, art, photos—a hundred elements.
- our national representatives are meeting with ad agencies and advertisers in New York, Detroit, Chicago—a dozen cities—telling them about Marin County and its newspaper.
- special contributors' columns on fishing, baseball and many others are being processed.
- Marin Magazine is being dummied; stories developed for the Saturday edition—picturing life in Marin.
- the business office moves against a mountain of financial and administrative detail.
- stereotypers cast the weighty cylinders for the big press—the final imprint of the news on metal.
- last minute news comes through and the front page changes under the expert fingers of typographers and the eye of the editor.

Convicted Murderer Ruled Sane

SUSANVILLE (AP) — Robert Tidwell, convicted of slaying three Northern Californians, today faced a penalty trial to determine if he should die in the gas chamber or serve life in prison.

Tidwell, 19, was judged sane yesterday by the same Lassen County Superior Court jury which convicted him last Thursday.

"Remember, you people are not killing rattlesnakes or pulling the wings off of butterflies," Tidwell shouted as the jury left the courtroom to debate the sanity question for an hour. The outburst constrasted with his lack of emotional reaction when the guilty verdict was read last week.

Tidwell and his 21-year-old brother William, both of Redding are convicted of the fatal shooting and stabbing last August of Susanville rancher Levoy DeForest and his wife and of Humboldt County logger Keith Utterback of Hoopa.

About $300 Taken From Coin Machines

Someone opened the coin boxes on the minute wash at 1108 Grant Avenue, Novato, between 8:30 a.m. last Sunday and noon Saturday, Herschel M. Alpers of Petaluma reported to Novato police.

Approximately $300 was taken from the coin machines which apparently were opened with a key, Alpers told police.

Another Queen Soon To Retire

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Cunard steamship line official said yesterday the Queen Elizabeth, sister ship of the Queen Mary, will be for sale in November.

Lord Mancroft, deputy chairman of the Cunard line, told Newsmen the younger but larger Queen Elizabeth would be ready for retirement before the year's end.

San Francisco city officials are reportedly vying with city officials in Acapulco, Mexico; Honolulu and cities in Japan and Australia to buy the ship.

The Queen Mary was purchased last year by Long Beach, and is being converted into a convention center, hotel and nautical museum.

Slashing Of 'Luther' Is Most Unjust

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—ABC-TV last night presented a sharply truncated, 90-minute adaptation of John Osborne's superb play, "Luther," and the slashing of the length was the unkindest cut of all.

The epic drama of the 16th Century Catholic monk who started the Reformation was hardly epic any more after the cutting had been done. It was more of a mini-epic, with the shortened form requiring a more pronounced episodic result, and all the shortcomings that accompany this type of structure.

A PITY, TOO

It was a pity, too, for even in its truncated form the play often blazed with the brilliance of Osborne's words and the excellence of an outstanding cast that deserved more time to spread its abilities. Robert Shaw starred in the title role, Robert Morely appeared briefly as Pope Leo X, and the supporting players included Max Adrian, Ronald Fraser, Kenneth J. Warren, Bernard Kay and Frank Middlemas—all expert.

In fact, for the first hour or so, it seemed the television version might even gain a triumph of a sort over the truncation, as there was a series of powerful verbal confrontations, with only a few routine transitional scenes interrupting.

PLAY DWINDLES

For the last third or so of the adaptation, however — after Luther finally broke from the church—the play dwindled down into a series of relatively minor sequences that more or less just petered out after a while.

There were numerous scenes in the early going that won a viewer's admiration. The confrontation of Luther as a young monk—driven, full of self-doubt, tortured by a sense of guilt and plain physical problems—and of his father, crude, vulgar, not understanding his son or why he was choosing this way of life, was wholly gripping.

"Luther" won both the New York Drama Critics award and the Antoinette Perry (Tony) award as the best play of 1963. But television chopped it down to size. It fit the time slot, and that's all that counts, right?

Planner's Radio Reported Stolen

The theft of radio and other equipment from the Stinson Beach home of Marin County Planning Commissioner Hugh Dougherty was among the break-ins reported by Sheriff's deputies yesterday.

Daugherty said that during his absence Thursday, a stereo tuner, amplifier, turntable, binoculars, typewriter, camera, lens and transister radio were taken. Value was undetermined.

Henry E. Hoffmann yesterday reported to deputies the theft of a $350 watch from his apartment at 100 Ross Road, Sausalito.

LAW IN ACTION

From the State Bar Of California

Most Everyone Has A 'Record'

Everyone has a "record." It need not be a criminal record — or even a list of traffic tickets: Businesses and government agencies often keep detailed employment records.

Sometimes private employers and government agencies use psychological tests to find out "the innermost thoughts of the man." They regard them important in finding the best man to fill certain jobs, or so they say.

Lawsuits over the use of "psychologicl tests" have raised questions of invasions of privacy and other rights.

In one case the State Department asked a secretary to take a personality test when she asked to work overseas. As a secretary her record was excellent and her recommendations outstanding. Yes she had to take a test of some 750 questions about her family, sex life, religion, and habits.

She answered some, but refused to answer other questions. She said they had nothing to do with her fitness to do her job. The government refused to give a medical clearance. The secretary protested. When the case received wide publicity, it was dropped, and the tests were changed.

Later a Senate committee examined some of the government's testing practices. A person who is labeled neurotic or emotionally disturbed is likely to have a hard time in getting work or promotions.

The U. S. Supreme Court has generally upheld government restrictions and conditions on employment. For example, it upheld the limits on government employees in political activities. The government, like any other employer, may set any "reasonable" condition to employment.

But the Supreme Court has held that no government agency as an employer can take "arbitrary action." For example, it could not fire an employee just because he pleaded the Fifth Amendment when asked about past political work. Nor could it deny him his wages for refusing to take another loyalty oath.

In another loyalty case involving a person's "fitness" for a government job, the Supreme Court required the agency to allow the employee a hearing to confront and cross-examine those who testified against him.

Nevertheless, courts recognize that the employer has a right to test to find the person best fitted for the job and to protect the employer's interst.

Hamilton Base Paper Honored

The Intercept, the base newspaper at Hamilton Air Force Base, took first place in the 1967 Air Force world wide newspaper contest, Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, announced last week.

The paper took first place in class II, commercial enterprise papers, in a field of 62 entries. These represented the commands in the various categories.

Prior to the world wide contest, the Intercept had taken first place in the Aerospace Defense Command for the second time in four years.

Homeowner Club Reorganizing After Five Years

Belveron Gardens Homeowners Association in Tiburon is being reactivated.

Residents decided the area has been "quiet too long and it's time to clean up and above all to beautify the entrance," according to a member, Mrs. Joseph Ramblas.

The group has not met for more than five years, Mrs. Ramblas said.

Donald Batten of 29 Mercury Avenue is the temporary chairman of an organizing committee which includes Lenoard H. Brown Jr., Kurtis Webb, Mrs. Mary Ann Gray and Mrs. Charles E. Henson.

Present at a recent organizational meeting of the group were Lawrence D. Rose, Tiburon city manager; Rampton W. Harvey, city councilman; Mrs. Polly D. Smith, chairman of the parks and recreation commission; Louis F. Brunini, superintendent of public works, and Watson N. Haarbauer, chairman of the Reedlands Home Owners Association.

A meeting is being planned for Feb. 15, with the time and place to be announced later, Mrs. Ramblas said.

Olympic Sex Test Is Touchy Question

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Avery Brundage, 80-year-old president of the International Olympic Committee said today it had been hoped that the introduction of a sex test for girl athletes would "discourage countries from entering doubtful contestants."

Brundage arrived in Grenoble to preside over the IOC Congress meetings before the Winter Olympics get under way in a week's time.

The IOC president said a decision on exactly how the sex test would be carried out would be taken at a meeting this week.

Originally the IOC agreed that every athlete should be tested "but we had some very useful talks with international federation officials in Lausanne and we may change our ideas," Brundage said.

Brundage stressed, however, that the test—to settle any gossip about the exact sex of an athlete—still would take place before the Games started.

He added that one suggestion had been that only doubtful athletes should be tested "but obviously we cannot point the accusing finger at specific people. We shall have to work out a solution."

The IOC president said one of the most important decisions to be taken this week would involve the future of South Africa as far as the Olympic movement was concerned.

An IOC delegation composed of Lord Killanin of Ireland, Sir Ade Ademola of Nigeria and Reg Alexander of Kenya recently visited South Africa and studied the whole question of apartheid as it applied to sports.

Their report was due for release later today and Brundage said: "We shall decide on Friday whether or not a postal vote that has been taken should be confirmed or not."

In other words, South Africa should know on Friday whether it is going to be allowed back into the Olympics for the Mexico Summer Games.

Lord Killanin said it would be imprudent to talk about the committee's report until it had been released. Frank Braun, chairman of the South African Olympic Committee, also refused to comment "until we have seen and digested the report."

BRITISH PRO GOLFERS MUST USE U.S. BALL

LONDON (AP) — Britain's pro golfers must use the larger United States ball for the next three years, it was ordered today.

The change from the British ball, which has a diameter of 1.62 inches, to the larger U.S. ball, with a diameter of 1.68 inches, was made following an inquest into the recent humiliation of British pros in the Ryder Cup matches in which the British ball was used against U.S. forces at Houston in October.

The U.S. team won 23½-8½.

Our MVP Honors Today Go To Two Theologians

JIM SHORTS — Our most valuable prayers for today happen to be two professors at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at Strawberry Point, Mill Valley.

Dr. Fred L. Fisher, professor of the New Testament interpretation, and Dr. J. B. Nichols, professor of educational administration, achieved that ultimate goal of every golfer — the hole-in-one — within the past two months.

Dr. Nichols scored his ace at Biloxi, Miss., on Dec. 14 in the presence of three witnesses; Dr. Fisher aced the seventh hole at Peacock Gap, San Frafael on Jan. 18, a 160-yard 4-iron shot whose only witnesses were a flock of ducks.

Proving that someone up there likes them, Drs. Nichols and Fisher are strong believers in the power of prayer.

A Handicap In Itself

NAME GAME: Mesdames Martin Bramante and Joe Bregante are co-chairmen of the Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club's handicap committee. With such similar sounding names, I'd call that a handicap in itself.

OLD PRO — George Lee of San Rafael, coaching assistant to Bill Sharman of the S.F. Warriors, has come out of retirement for the umpteenth time and is back on the team's playing roster. At last count George has retired and unretired nine times, the latest comeback prompted by the loss of center Nate Thurmond due to injury.

GREETINGS, GATE — Don't worry about a slump in the 49ers' attendance next season: New head coach Dick Nolan and his wife, Ann, are parents of six children — Richard Jr., 12; Nancy, 11; Michael, 8; Kelly, 7; Lisa, 5; Jimmy, 15 months.

TRAVEL TIPS — The S.F. Giants Bay Area Booster Club's spring training tour to Phoenix March 27-April 4, sponsored by San Rafael's GTS Travel Bureau, is filling up rapidly, reports travel titan Paul Hartman Jr. Reservations should be made with him within the next week.

The trip will include personal visits with Giants players and brass, side tours to Arizona's scenic spots, tickets to several exhibition games and, of course, all transportation and hotel accommodations.

SMALL TALK — For the next lull in a cocktail party conversation, throw this little gem of wisdom at some unsuspecting soul: "Did you know that a major league baseball team using only 9 men could present 362,880 different batting orders, enough to last 2,239 seasons, assuming the team plays the current 162-game schedule?"

If they don't believe you, tell them to figure it out for themselves.

DING DONG—Houston, the nation's No. 1 collegiate team, has accepted an invitation to play in San Francisco's second annual Cable Car Classic next December. Promoters Harry Jupiter and Art Santo Domingo, who took a financial bath on their first annual effort, are overjoyed, feeling sure the Cougars will pack 'en in.

KEY STONE — Maybe Manager Herman Franks will solve the Giants' second base problem when he goes along on a baseball goodwill tour of Europe next month. The tour is sponsored by — the Defense Department.

Track Cold War Thaws

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A Soviet-U.S. track and field cold war has thawed and the Russians will end a two-year boycott here Saturday night of meets in this country, the Amateur Athletic Union disclosed yesterday.

The Carroll Club, which stages the Seattle Invitational Indoor Meet, was informed by David A. Matlin of Los Angeles, AAU president, of the resumption of track relations with the Soviet Union.

Matlin said seven top Russian track stars, will begin a series of U.S. appearances in the Seattle invitational.

The five men and two women athletes were due in Seattle by plane from Moscow at noon today.

From here they will compete in Los Angeles Feb. 10; New York Feb. 16 and in the AAU Indoor Championships in Oakland, Feb. 23-24.

The Russian contingent will be the first to compete in the United States in more than two years. The Soviet Union canceled an appearance by its team in the annual international dual meet between the two countries in Los Angeles in July, 1966, in protest over U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

The boycott extended until this week.

CONTENDERS

The seven all are leading contenders for the Soviet Union's 1968 Olympic Games team.

The men include Valentin Gavrilo, 7-1½ high jumper; Vladislov Sapeja, 60-yard dash man who won the 100 meters in the 1967 European Cup championships; Oleg Rajko, miler who has run the 1,500 meters in 3:38.7, equivalent to a 3:52.7 mile; Tonu Lepik, long jumper who recently defeated Russian former world record holder Igor Ter-Ovan Essyan; and Gennady Bliznetsov, 17-1 pole vaulter who placed fifth in the 1964 Olympic Games.

The women are Tatiana Talishova, long jumper who has done 21-6¼, and Antonia Orokova, high jumper with a best effort of 5-11⅝.

Yaz Still Staying In Shape

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, who led the surprising Boston Red Sox into the World Series, has come up with another stunner on the postseason banquet trail — he's losing weight.

The Boston outfielder, who won the Triple Crown last season, was here to receive the Hickok Belt as the Professional Athlete of 1967. The way he talked, it takes an outstanding athlete to last through the testimonial dinners.

"Twenty cities in 24 days," he moaned. "that's a pretty rough schedule. It's not even the meals you eat at those affairs that get you. Most of the time you're eating on planes, or in airports.

Well, it's just about over now. I've been ordered by my doctor to call it quits. I've had the flu and lost eight pounds."

The lost weight is a bit unusual on the banquet circuit that has sent the weight of many athletes soaring. But Yastrzemski, who worked hard with weights last winter before his big season, prides himself now on his conditioning.

"I've worked a long time towards a year like this," said the seven-year 29-year-old veteran.

Green Bay's Jerry Kramer Is One Who Never Gives Up

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — In 1965, the doctors told 28-year-old Jerry Kramer he might not live to be 29.

"They were 95 per cent certain I had cancer," said Kramer last night as he was honored by the Philadelphia Sports Writers Association with its annual award to The Most Courageous Athlete of the Year.

Kramer, an offensive guard for Green Bay's pro football champions, recalled, "I really got depressed as I contemplated the end of my life."

The 260-pound lineman told of visiting a children's ward in a hospital and then "making peace with myself. I realized I'd been around 28 years and had a great life. Compared to people who never had anything I had no gripe. If I had to go, I had to go."

Kramer received the award after the writers honored Wilt Chamberlain of the champion Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association as the outstanding pro athlete of 1967, and Southern California's All-America running back O. J. Simpson as the top amatuer star of last year.

The Green Bay star was selected by the writers long before his crushing block on Jethro Pugh of the Dallas Cowboys cleared the way for Bart Starr to score the winning touchdown in the final seconds of the National Football League championship game.

Kramer has a medical history which would fill a book. At 16, his right arm was ripped by more than a dozen pieces of buckshot in a hunting accident. He still can't completly close fingers on the right hand. Later, a calf he was chasing stepped on a 10-foot piece of wood and splintered it, a hunk of the speer like splinters passing through Kramer's lower abdomen and almost out his back.

An operation removed 12 slivers of wood, but four remained in his intestines for 12 years. In 1965, wracked with back pain, the 260-pound native of Idaho underwent eight abdominal operations. Four slivers of wood were removed, a tumor as big as a grapefruit cut out of his liver, a hernia corrected.

A month after his last operation, Kramer went to see Green Bay Coach Vince Lombardi and told him he would be back as a running guard. "I know Lombardi didn't believe me, and at training camp he shunted me to the defense. He kept me, I think just to protect my pension rights." Kramer came back, however, and has played a vital role in all three Green Bay titles, 1965 through 1967, and a pair of Super Bowl victories.

"My father once told me, 'son, you've got an angel on your shoulder and you better thank the lord.' I have and my doctors too," said the 31-year-old Kramer.

A number of times after his series of abdominal operations, Kramer was reported dead. His family received so many sympathy calls, he decided to hold his own wake. He bought a keg of beer, spread flowers around the house, and one guest brought a headstone.

Best Time For Italian Bobsledder

ALPE D'HUEZ, France (AP) — Italian, French, British and Austrian bobsleds turned in the fastest times in the first training run on the new Olympic bob ice track.

Over 30 two-man sleds from eight countries took part in trial runs which started last night under artificial lights on the ice-walled, 1500-meter chute and ended this morning.

Italy's nine-times world champion Eugenio Monti, with Luciano De Paolis as brakeman, slid down the 14-curve course in the best time of 1 minute, 13.34 seconds. The French pair of Francis Luiggi and Maurice Grether were second best, coming down only three-hundredths of a second slower.

Pro Golfing Scene Shifts To Palm Springs Course

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The winter golf tournament scene shifted to this lower California desert resort area today for the $122,000 Bob Hope Classic.

A field of 126 professionals was on hand for the 90-hole marathon which starts tomorrow and winds up Sunday.

For the first 72 holes the pros will team with 408 amateurs.

Included in the 72-hole money is $22,000 for the pros.

Tom Nieporte of Long Island, N.Y., the surprise winner of the 1967 Hope, is on hand to defend his title. The 38-year-old Nieporte, who doesn't play many tournaments, collected $17,600 for his win a year ago.

This time the top money is $20,000.

U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, who won here in 1963, rejoins the touring pros. He has been tuning up his game on the desert courses the past few days.

Also present are Billy Casper, fresh from his Sunday triumph in the Los Angeles Open, and Arnold Palmer. Palmer won the inaugural classic in 1960 and repeated in 1962. He is the only one to win it twice. Casper won it in 1965.

Other previous winners on hand are Billy Maxwell, 1961; Tommy Jacobs, 1964; and Doug Sanders, 1966.

The tournament will be played over four plush courses — Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, La Quinta, El Dorado.

Beban Bypassed In First Round

NEW YORK (AP) — Offensive tackle Ron Yary of Southern California was picked today by the Minnesota Vikings as the first choice in the combined college draft by the National and American football leagues.

Yary, 6-foot-6, 245-pounder from Bellflower, Calif., won the Outland Trophy as the nation's outstanding interior lineman while playing for the national champion Trojans.

UCLA quarterback Gary Beban, the Heisman Trophy winner who had announced that he would not play for a loser prior to the draft, was bypassed in the first round.

The NFL Vikings got the first choice because they sent quarterback Fran Tarkenton to the New York Giants last year. In return they got the Giants' first two picks in 1967 and New York's bonus choice.

The bonus choice came about because of the merger of the NFL and AFL.

Bob Johnson, All-America center from Tennessee, became the first draftee ever picked by the new Cincinnati Bengals of the AFL.

Johnson was the regular first pick of the initial round. Cincinnati gets the first and last picks in each of the 17 rounds.

The third pick was defensive tackle Claude Humphrey from Tennessee A&I, who was taken by the NFL Atlanta Falcons. Humphrey was a little All-America selection in 1967.

The AFL San Diego Chargers, who acquired Denver's first-round pick by trading quarterback Steve Tensi to the Broncos last season, chose 6-6, 275-pound Russ Washington, an offensive tackle and defensive end from Missouri.

The world champion Green Bay Packers, getting New Orleans' choice as compensation for Jim Taylor who played out his option and signed with the Saints, took linebacker Fred Carr, an exceptionally quick 6-5, 230-pound linebacker from Texas El-Paso.

The lineman trend continued when the AFL Boston Patriots took defensive tackle Dennis Byrd of North Carolina State. Byrd, 6-4, 260, was called by his college coaching staff the greatest tackler to play at the school.

All-America defensive end Kevin Hardy of Notre Dame was picked by New Orleans.

Larry Csonko of Syracuse become the first back picked when he was taken by the AFL Miami Dolphins. Csonka is a 6-3, 230-pound All-America fullback.

The AFL Buffalo Bills got the linemen back in the spotlight by picking Little All-America end Haven Moses of San Diego State, the No. 1 small college team. Moses, 6-3 and 190, hauled in 54 passes for 958 yards and seven touchdowns.

Mike Taylor, 6-5, 250, an offensive tackle from Southern California, was the selection of the Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL.

Quarterback Greg Landry of Massachusetts was picked by the Detroit Lions of the NFL. The 6-3, 190-pounder ran and passed for 1,819 yards in nine games last year. He passed for six touchdowns and ran for eight more.

The NFL Washington Redskins took Jim Smith, a second team All-America defensive back from Oregon. Smith is 6-3, 195 pounds and runs the 100 in 9.7 seconds.

Running back MacArthur Lane of Utah State was selected by the NFL St. Louis Cardinals. The 24-year-old Lane is 6-1, 222 pounds.

A third Southern California player was taken from Philadelphia of the NFL picked 6-5, 235-pound Tim Rossovich, a defensive end.

Center Forrest Blue, 6-5, and 241 pounds, from Auburn was chosen by the NFL San Francisco 49ers.

Southern California struck for the fourth time when fullback Mike Hull was taken by the Chicago Bears of the NFL.

Lee White, Weber State's bruising fullback, was picked by the AFL New York Jets. The 6-4, 240-pound Little All-America rushed for 1,378 yards as a college senior.

San Diego made its second pick, its own choice this time, by selecting James Hilt a defensive back from Texas A&I.

Maurice Moorman, 6-5, 252-pound guard from Texas A&M was picked by the Kansas City Chiefs of the AFL. He was the 19th player chosen in the first round.

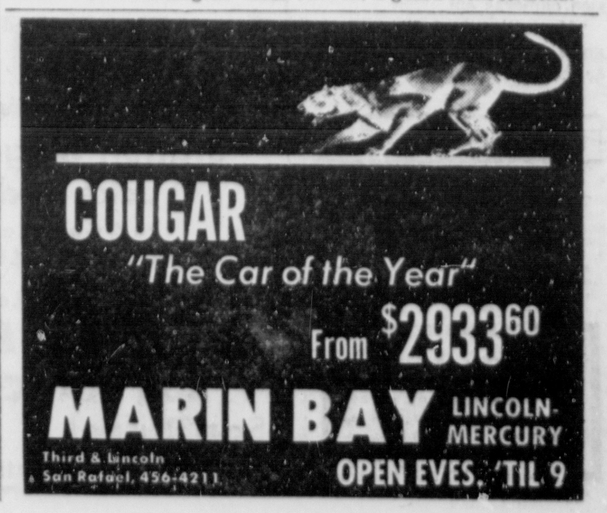
Dennis Homan, who gained All-America honors by catching passes for Bear Bryant's Alabama Crimson Tide, was chosen 20th by Dallas of the NFL. Homan is a 6-foot, 182-pound end.

Marvin Upshaw, 6-4, 240-pound defensive end from Trinity, Tex., college, was selected 21st by the Cleveland Browns of the NFL. Upshaw's brother, Gene, is a guard for the AFL champion Oakland Raiders.

Kansas City made George Daney of Texas-El Paso its second selection of the round.

Eldridge Dickey of Tennessee A&I became the second quarterback to be chosen. He was taken by Oakland.

Green Bay, making its own choice of the round, tabbed Bill Lueck, a guard from Arizona.



Marin Seeks Yachting Glory

All the talk about this week's fourth annual Congressional Cup Race in Long Beach centers around the Allan Brothers, Scott and Skip.

But veteran skipper Frank "Jack" Wosser of Tiburon, top Northern California entry in the series of nine Cal-40 match races Thursday through Sunday, doesn't consider himself out of it by any means.

"I wouldn't go down there if I did," Jake said. "The Allan brothers should be favored along with Bob Missbaker, but I figure they've never sailed against me and I've never sailed against them, so we're even."

Wosser and his crew flew to Long Beach yesterday morning to catch up with their boat, the "Numse," already docked there earlier.

It will be a grueling test for both men and boats, pitting 10 of the top sailing skippers in the U. S. against each other in a series of head-on duels, with three races a day.

It will be the first try at the Congressional Cup race for Wosser, who has won the International One Design world championship two years running 1965-66. He will be respresenting the St. Francis Yacht Club, San Francisco.

His crew will consist of Allan Mitchell, Ray Ashley, Jerry Rumsay, and Jim Davies, all of Belvedere; Gary Mull of Alameda and Morey Smith of Mill Valley, owner of the Numse.

"This race is a real good test of people," Jake said. "The important thing is to get a good start every time. We'll just have to take them one at a time."

The Allan brothers should offer an interesting duel.

Scott is the defending champ. He has also won the 1967 Prince of Wales Cup and will represent the Los Angeles Y. C. and will be sailing the Allan family boat, the "Holiday Too."

Moss Baker, sailing for the Houston Corinthian Y. C., is the brother of Buzz Mossbaker, who retained America's yachting cup, defeating Australia's bid last year.

Negroes' Boycott Gains Momentum

NEW YORK (AP) — The movement by Negroes to boycott the New York Athletic Club indoor track meet Feb. 16 appears to be gathering momentum, but meet officials are continuing their official silence on the subject.

The meet, the first scheduled for the new Madison Square Garden, is the target of several Negro groups and individuals who allege that while the NYAC meet is open to all competitors, the club itself is not.

Several Negro colleges and clubs that usually send strong contingents are bypassing the meet and coaches of several New York area teams have said that though they will enter teams they will not force individuals who support the boycott to compete.

Ray Lumpp, director of the meet, denied yesterday that the meet would not stage high-school relays, usually a staple item, because of the boycott.

Late last week the city's Public School Athletic League and Catholic High Schools Athletic Association said they would not compete in the relays because of the boycott.

Lumpp said both organizations have been told three weeks ago that the relays were being dropped from the meet "because the program is too long."

Later, though, he said a second section of the mile would be run because "we have the talent for it."

Lumpp would not say if any entries had been withdrawn after the boycott movement started, nor would he comment on the boycott itself.

"I'm not going to discuss the meet in terms of origins," he said. "Whatever changes are made, we will make the necessary adjustments."

He defended the club's policies, saying, the club "has always been generous and gracious by giving tickets for the meet to underprivileged kids from all kinds of groups. This means that thousands of kids have been kept off the streets that night."

In listing the competitors entered in the meet—who make up strong fields in some events—Lumpp did not mention the sprints, hurdles or long jump, events in which many of the top performers are Negroes.

Expansion Explained By Cronin

NEW YORK (AP) — Each of the American League's existing 10 teams will lose six players in the expansion draft to stock the new Kansas City and Seattle baseball franchises which begin play in 1969.

According to the expansion plan released yesterday by Joe Cronin, president of the American League, each team will protect 15 players on a 40-man roster.

Kansas City and Seattle will pick a total of 30 players with the old teams protecting three more players each time they lose one. That means the established teams will lose their No. 16, No. 20, No. 24, No. 28, No. 32 and No. 36 players.

The teams must submit their player lists to Cronin no later than 48 hours after the conclusion of the 1968 World Series. The draft will be held October 15, presumably in Boston, headquarters of the American League.

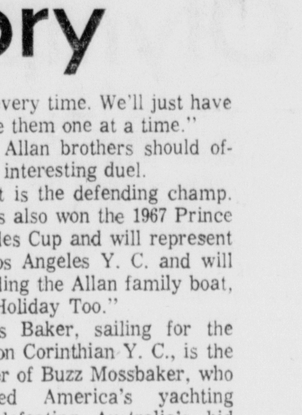
BOWLING TIPS

By MARION LADEWIG



No bowler should be standing upright after releasing the ball, as the lady in today's illustration is doing. This is a lazy way of bowling and the score will reflect such a lack of effort. Bend your left knee as you deliver the ball. Reach out toward the pins and make a strong follow-through.

Cow Palace Is Going To The Dogs This Week

Approximately 900 dog shows are held each year under auspices of the American Kennel Club. One of the top five in the county will be held Saturday and Sunday in the Cow Palace. It is the 58th annual Golden Gate Kennel Club Dog Show.

Precisely 2,213 purebreds representing 110 of 116 recognized breeds have been entered in this year's show, a blue ribbon affair because all entrants must be previous blue ribbon winners to qualify.

Among unusual breeds entered this year are: Schipperkes, Belgian Turveren, Bernese mountain dogs, Australian cattle dogs, English foxhound, American foxhound and Scottish deerhound.

A TOY POODLE won best-in-show honors the past two years. This year 44 toy poodles have been entered. The crowd follows a winner in dog shows as elsewhere.

A great champion can go for as much as $5,000. Some are not for sale at any price. Such was the case with Abeille, a bloodhound whelped in 1865.

Abeille carries the historic No. 1 in the American Kennel Club Stud Book, first published in 1874. Since then AKC registrations have passed ten million and new entries are approaching one million a year.

BECAUSE OWNERS occasionally become jittery during judging events, they usually entrust their dogs to less emotional professional handlers who also are masters of makeup in preparing dogs for big events.

Some years ago a furor over faking resulted from a professional's skillful but illegal use of makeup. The pro artificially blackened the flesh-colored, or butterfly, nose of a Bull Terrier, a disqualifying fault in the breed.

HENRY D. BIXBY, then executive vice president of the AKC, put a prompt stop to such shenanigans.

"Are we awarding prizes for the best dogs or the best makeup jobs?" asked Bixby. "We ought to show dogs as God made them, not as a beauty parlor fixed them."

In addition to being a blue ribbon event, the Golden Gate Kennel Club's annual affair also is a benched show. At a benched show to which admission is charged every dog 12 months old and over must be on its bench when not in show or exercise rings. This gives spectatctors an opportunity to get close-up looks of the dogs.

TRAINED DOG acts, featuring Chester, a border collie, and Lord Nelson, English sheepdog of TV's Please Don't Eat the Daisies, are part of this year's show which again will spotlight the San Francisco Police Department's Canine Corps in action.

Lombardi Sets Press Conference

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packer coach and general manager, the most consistently successful coach in National Football League history, has called a rare postseason news conference—feeding speculation he may step down as coach.

Lombardi, whose nine-year reign in Packerland was climaxed recently by an unprecedented third straight NFL title and a second Super Bowl victory, invited the press and the Packer board of directors to a Thursday night dinner.

The Brooklyn-born football genius has been saying for years that the work of coach and general manager is too much. And, it was considered unlikely he would call the post-season session merely to announce his position in Green Bay would go unchanged.

The most persistent rumor has been that Lombardi will not coach the pro football champions in 1968. Speculation has it that he plans to turn over the coaching duties to long-time assistant Phil Bengtson, the defensive coach, and stay on as general manager.

Other rumors have Lombardi moving to another team, but he has said he'll stay in Green Bay, where he has led teams to NFL titles in five of the last seven years.

Bengtson, the architect of the league's most successful overall defense, has rejected several head coaching offers in the past few years—while other Lombardi assistants moved into good positions with other teams.

But speculation is, after all, speculation. Long-time star tackle Henry Jordan summed it up yesterday:

"I've been guessing with that man for nine years, and for nine years I've been guessing wrong. Probably no one knows for sure what he's going to do except Coach Lombardi."

Press Hounding Soph Cage Star

BATON ROUGLE, La. (AP) — Louisiana State basketball Coach Press Maravich said yesterday he will restrict the number of press, radio and television interviews with his son, sophomore sensation Pete Maravich.

Maravich leads the nation in scoring with a 44.5 average.

"Pete's been subject to so much press attention in the past few weeks that he's mentally haggard," his father added. "I'm going to move the television cameras out.

"Mentally, it's draining Pete, and I don't think it's fair to him or the team."

Good News For Salmon Trollers, But Bay Bass Reports 'Spotty'

STEVENS

With the opening of ocean salmon fishing only a trifle over two weeks away, it should gladden the hearts of the salmon trolling addicts to know that there are sizable schools of the silver horde hanging around in the areas north of the Golden Gate not for from shore.

Hence it behooves this reporter to suggest that it is not too early to contact one of the sport fishing headquarters to make a reservation for a seat on one of the party boats. Lot's of room now, but shortly the spaces may be all filled.

Minnie Caruso of Caruso's boat, bait and tackle spot in Sausalito reported on Sunday that reservations are being called in daily. Ditto the Urbais boat and tackle outfit, also in Sausalito.

REGARDING THE local striper-striving picture, at this writing it can only be classified as "spotty." Alice Quan of China Camp reported very few boats out but from those few the action has been at least fair: "We only had a half-dozen boats out on Saturday, but some bass were taken; nice size, to 20 pounds; but some action with sturgeon. Mel Columbo came in with a nice 45 pound sturgeon. If the bass fishermen had the patience to wait until the last of the runout, they should get some fair action."

FROM LEE ANDERSON'S shop in Oakland comes word that the good boat Duke Two, with Captain Carl Svenson at the helm, has been out several days in succession, and made the grade each time. On Tuesday, Carl was alone in his boat, hooked, played and landed a sturgeon weighing 51 pounds; on Thursday, landed bass to 18 pounds; on Friday, with two passengers, skipper Svenson reported bass to 18 pounds on bullheads, and, on Saturday, with one passenger, the Duke II reported 3 bass to 14 pounds, also taken on bullheads.

DID YOU notice, in his hour-long state of the union message President johnson devoted exactly 25 words to the still pending "Gun Control" legislation? Those in the know, however, consider that the President hinted that he was ready and willing to okay a bill providing, in particular, tighter control on the sale of mail-order firearms. He asked Congress to "stop the trade in mail-order murder, to stop it this year."

THE INDICTMENT of a mail-order firearms dealer in New York should be saluted by all sportsmen. It was the first instance in which the 30-year-old federal law has been enforced, and it shows that a highly restrictive firearms law, such as has been proposed by Senator Dodd, is not needed.

"We have only to enforce what we already have on the books," said Franklin L. Orth, vice president of the National Rifle Association, to which I add, Amen.

COMBINED AP & UPI

MELBOURNE — Australia overwhelmingly affirmed its decision to support open tennis at a special meeting of the Lawn Tennis Association of Australia today.

The LTAA also decided by five states to one to go along with Sweden's move to delete the words amateur and professional and substitute the word player in international rules under the International Lawn Tennis Frderation.

The meeting called on all tennis nations in the world to support the Swedish move at an extraordinary conference to be held in Paris during March to reconsider the international body's stand against open tennis.

Britain started the ball rolling toward open tennis by voting to defy the ILTF and elminating the distinction between amateurs and professionals for its tennis tournaments, including the Wimbledon.

Adolph Rupp Of Kentucky Becomes Biggest Winner

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Adolph Rupp says the biggest victory in his 38 years of coaching was not the one his Kentucky Wildcats scored last night to make him the winningest basketball coach in college circles but the triumph his American squad had 20 years ago in capturing the Olympic cage title.

The Bluegrass Baron, nevertheless, broke out in smiles when the final buzzer sounded here and his team had scored an 85-76 conquest of Mississippi.

It was Rupp's 772nd career victory—giving him one more than the legendary Phog Allen of Kansas, for whom Rupp played in the 1920s.

"I'm glad it's all over," conceded Rupp as Ole Miss Coach Eddie Crawford gave him the game ball and the partisan crowd rose to its feet and gave the Kentucky coach a rousing ovation.

"It's not so important that this is 772," said Rupp. "The big thing is that we're still in the thick of the Southeastern Conference race."

As far as Rupp is concerned, he became the winningest coach earlier this season. Victory No. 772 is the tabulation by the NCAA. According to Rupp's count, the Ole Miss victory was No. 777.

The difference in the two tabulations came when the NCAA refused to count Kentucky's five victories in becoming champions of the first International Universities Tournament at Tel Aviv, Israel, two summers ago.

To the Baron's way of thinking, they should count all games against good opposition although the NCAA, which approved the Tel Aviv trip, has a rule that no games count if they are played after the national championship in March or if a team plays more than 26 games in one season.

"I don't win the games," chuckled Rupp in a postgame interview last night. "The boys do—and they should get the credit, not me."

Rupp's career at Kentucky began on Dec. 18, 1930. It took him 38 years to become the winningest coach. The legendary Allen, Now retired, won 771 games over a 42-year period.

The Baron, 12-4 for this season, has at least 10 more games before the windup of the current campaign. Although he was 66 last September, Rupp just snorts when the talks turns to retirement.

New Vinyl Process Means New Service For Marin County

First distributor and applicator of the new vinyl process being introduced by Feldron Industries at Northgate Industrial Park is Edward Wolford of 8 Arbor Circle, Novato.

Formerly a carpenter and worker in laminated plastic coverings, he has tied up Marin and Sonoma counties and is already engaged in both vinyl repair and dyeing, doing business as Wolford Vinyl Co. Work, which is mainly for restaurants, bars, offices and other commercial establishments, consist of repairing rips, tears and cut and dyeing to match or changing colors entirely — all on the owner's premises.

Feldron Industries expects eventually to distribute the dye in aerosol cans for household use.

IF INTERNAL REVENUE can check income tax statements by computer, there's no reason why they can't be prepared the same way and you will find more of this taking place between now and April 15 this year.

Another specialist to engage in this work is Computerized Income Tax Service, newly opened at 936 B Street, San Rafael — licensed by Associated Business Services in San Francisco. Mrs. Anne Peter Colby of that city is the operator of the San Rafael office. She and her assistants take all the information and pass it on to Associated where the actual computer work is done.

Fees in such instances are based on the volume of preliminary work and extra schedules required. The firm's hours now are from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. As the season gets under way it will be 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. through the week and Sunday afternoons.

JANE SWALL of Kentfield has joined the staff of Margaret Day Secretarial Service, San Rafael. She has been a legal secretary for 12 years in Marin and has had other experience in advertising, radio work, real estate and property management.

New equipment at Margaret Day's is an IBM Selectric composer for cold type composition, which has several improved operational features. Office is now open Mondays through Fridays from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

RALPH B. MANNELLA of San Anselmo has been assigned to Crocker-Citizens National Bank's San Anselmo office as assistant manager, secceeding Kenneth N. Adams, who died last month. Following five years of business experience he joined the bank in 1951 at the San Rafael main office and later served at Belvedere-Tiburon and Corte Madera offices and as assistant manager in East San Rafael and Vallejo. He has been assistant manager at the Belvedere-Tiburon office since 1964.

JOSHUA S. MacDONALD of San Rafael has been elected vice president in the San Francisco insurance brokerage office of Kindler, Laucci and Day. He has been vice president of other major insurance firms and engaged in sales management in several other cities.

DEAN L. KAMPE of Novato has been promoted to manager of general accounting for Levi Strauss and Co., San Francisco, moving up from administrative assistant. Before joining the company in 1965 he was a certified public accountant in New Orleans and Seattle.

J. R. GRIFFIN of San Rafael has been appointed senior research engineer, engine lubricants division, at the Richmond laboratory of Chevron Research Co. Before joining Chevron in 1962 he spent 23 years in the field of eninge years in the field of engine lubricants. He is now responsible for design, development and installation of automated control equipment for engine testing at Chevron.

A COMPARATIVELY recent business established in Novato is Amber Griffin Books at 1769-A Grant Avenue. This is owned by Mrs. Beverly Ehreth of Novato and managed by Mrs. Martha Greer, a former legal secretary. It is a well stocked store, with hardback, paperbacks, posters and prints. Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Mondays through Saturdays.

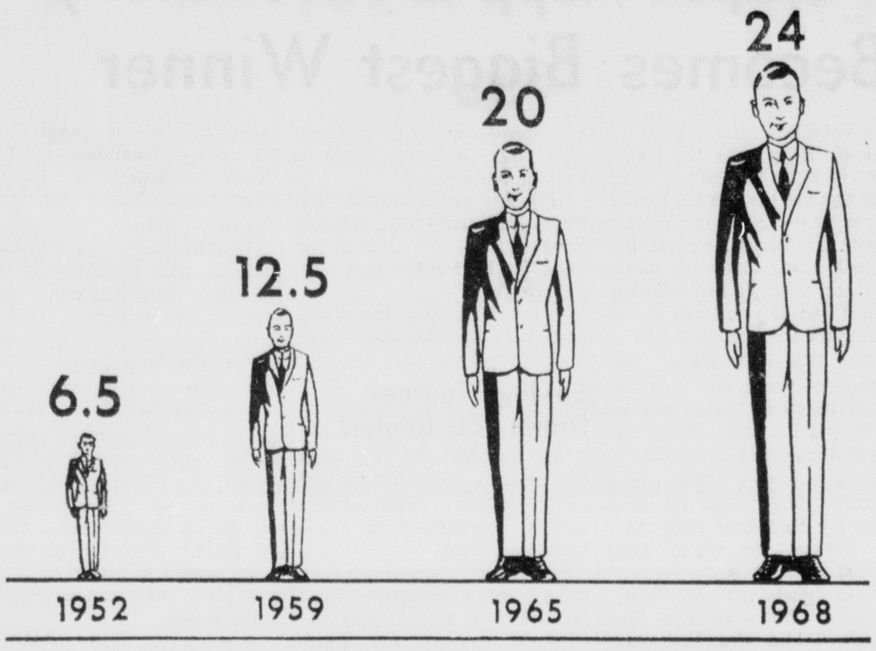
MILLIONS OF SHAREHOLDERS



NATION'S GROWING MAN: INVESTOR

The New York Stock Exchange has announced that this month saw an all-time record high in the number of shareholders in the United States — 24 million as compared to only 6.5 million in 1952. Slightly more than half of the nation's shareholders are women, the Big Board's census reveals; the adult percentage of either sex holding stock shares is at an all-time peak. (UPI Telephoto)

COMPLETE LIST ON SATURDAYS

The weekly range of the complete New York Stock Exchange list and mutual funds can be found in each Saturday's edition of the Independent-Journal.

The daily list, to be found on the I-J's Business Page, is a selected list of the 500 most active daily stocks carried on the Exchange.

Kaiser Aluminum Sets Quarterly Dividends

OAKLAND (BW) — Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp. directors have declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents per share on the corporation's common stock, payable Feb. 28 to stockholders of record Feb. 7

Regular quarterly dividends payable March 1 to stockholders of record Feb. 7 were also declared on various preferred stocks.

Market Hit By Glamor Stock Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed sharply lower today in a selloff paced by glamor stocks. Trading was active.

In late trading, losses outnumbered gains by more than 2-to-1 and the Dow Jones industrial average was down about 5 points.

The session began in a trendless fashion, with most changes small and no group action worth talking about. The list was befogged by uncertainties, foreign and domestic.

Before the morning was over, traders began to dump some of the higher-priced conglomerate, computer and electronic issues and selling spread to blue chips.

IBM, Polaroid, Control Data, Xerox, Teledyne and Amphenol were weak.

American Photocopy, a big gainer in recent sessions, was the most active stock as it dropped a couple of points in heavy profit taking. Right behind it on volume was Litton Industries, off 3 or more points as it continued a sharp retreat which got under way last week.

General Motors, Boeing, United Aircraft, American Smelting and Kennecott were among market wheelhorses which showed losses of around a point in the final minutes.

Prices on the American Stock Exchange were irregularly lower in active dealings.

Oakland Sells Bonds For Port

OAKLAND (AP)—The Port of Oakland sold $7.75 million in revenue bonds at a net interest rate of 4.8464 per cent yesterday.

They were purchased by a group including John Nuveen & Co., Salomon Bros. & Hutzler, and F. S. Smithers & Co., of New York. There were three other bidders.

The bonds will be retired with operating revenues of the port and are City of Oakland obligation.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to finance marine terminal, airport and industrial park projects.

Young Couple Should Seek Growth Alone

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. We are in our early 20s and have just started a family. Could you recommend stocks that might give us a safe and comfortable retirement? Are there any stocks which will yield profits before retirement and how do we go about purchasing such stocks? — G.B.

A. Your objective at this period of your life should be strong growth with income relatively unimportant. The benefit you will derive from such stocks over a period of time rests on their potential for substantially increasing your capital.

You must realize, though, that there will be occasional selloffs in most issues during periods of broad market decline. An additional benefit is that good stocks can rise in value faster than the dollar is depreciating and that is a very important consideration, indeed.

You can purchase stocks through a dealer in your area or, in many instances, through a local bank acting as your agent.

I advise you to buy Becton, Dickinson, one of the best stocks in the health-care field which has built-in growth characteristics. I would also consider Consolidated Foods, an unusually good performer in its group, and Textron which is one of the best of the conglomerates and a money-making machine, in my opinion.

Q. Would you mention one stock that you consider cheap? —A.H.

A. I believe that Boeing is one of the cheapest stocks on the Big Board. This well-managed company is broadening its worldwide position in commercial jet aircraft, in which it is the leader.

The shares are down about 30 points from their 1967-68 high largely because earnings probably showed no growth in 1967. Although the company does a good deal of government work, this phase of its business is not growing any my personal opinion is that Boeing couldn't care less.

I believe that the stock could prove very rewarding in 1969 or even sooner.

$100 Million Trade Mart Due Below Telegraph Hill

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— Plans and architectural models of a proposed $100 million San Francisco International Market Center, designed as the first total home furnishing and trade mart complex in the world, were placed on display today.

The first showing at the San Francisco Museum of Art was for an invitational group of city officials, business leaders, planners, architects and newsmen.

Sponsor for the showing was the North Waterfront Associates, Inc., the group converting 15.4 acres of the northern waterfront at the foot of Telegraph Hill into a modern low-level complex due to open in the early 70s.

Architect Donn Emmons of Wurster, Bernardi & Emmons, Inc., the designers, explained features of the plans. They included:

Two great halls, each more than 30,000 square-feet, suitable for trade shows and exhibitions and conventions.

Rooftop garden parks studded with fountains, pools, malls and plazas which will be open to the public.

A public funicular to run from the base of Telegraph Hill up to Coit Tower with a stop in between at Montgomery Street.

Subsurface parking for more than 2,000 vehicles.

The complex will be in excess of 4 million square-feet and will include a home furnishing mart, international trade mart, decorative, commercial and institutional furnishing mart, apparel and accessories mart and a 550-room waterfront hotel.
